Resources in Education, 2001-10 Teaching Mathematics in Grades 6 - 12 Randall E. Groth, 2012-08-10 Teaching Mathematics in Grades 6-12 by Randall E. Groth explores how research in mathematics education can inform teaching practice in grades 6-12. The author shows preservice mathematics teachers the value of being a researcher, constantly experimenting with methods for developing students' mathematical thinking and connecting this research to practices that enhance students' understanding of the material. Ultimately, preservice teachers will gain a deeper understanding of the types of mathematical knowledge students bring to school and how students' thinking may develop in response to different teaching strategies.

The Ethics of Intensification Paul B. Thompson, 2008-09-19 The Ethics of Agricultural Intensification: An Interdisciplinary and International Conversation Paul B. Thompson and John Otieno Ouko. Global agriculture faces a number of challenges as the world approaches the second decade of the third millennium. Predictions unilaterally indicate dramatic increases in world population between 2010 and 2030, and a trend in developing countries toward greater consumption of animal products could multiply the need for production of basic grains even further. Although global food production in 2000 was estimated to be adequate for the existing population, hunger and malnutrition are persistent problems that have led decision makers to recognize that increasing food production in specific regions may be the most effective way to address food security for impoverished peoples At the same time there will need to be policy adjustments that improve poor people's access to current food supplies without simultaneously undercutting the ability of local producers to obtain needed cash income What is more the uncertain effects of global climate change on agricultural ecosystems complicate planning for this process while poorly understood processes of globalization create additional unknowns from the side of social systems In short despite surpluses in many parts of the developed world finding ways to increase food production on both selected regional and a total global basis remains a priority for many farmers policy makers and agricultural researchers
