Lacey, Wells and Quick Reconstructing Criminal Law Celia Wells, Oliver Quick, 2010-05-27. Since the publication of the first edition, this textbook has offered one of the most distinctive and innovative approaches to the study of criminal law. Looking at both traditional and emerging areas such as public order offences and corporate manslaughter, it offers a broad and thorough perspective on the subject. Material is organised thematically and is clearly signposted at the beginning of each section to allow the student to navigate successfully through the different fields. This fourth edition looks at topical issues such as policing, the Serious Crime Act 2007 and reform of the Fraud Act 2006. Relevant case law and extracts from the most topical and engaging debates on the subject give the subject immediacy. The book is essential for both undergraduate and postgraduate study of criminal law and justice.

Mental Health, Neurodiversity, and Criminal Justice Melanie Clark Mogavero, 2025-06-25. This book is a critical and thorough examination of the relationship between the criminal justice and mental health systems. The chapters cover a wide range of populations, focusing on those with neurodevelopmental disabilities, specifically autism and intellectual disability, mental illnesses such as post-traumatic stress disorder and schizophrenia, substance use disorders, and juveniles. This book covers the entire criminal justice process, from initial contact with police, questioning, the court system, community and custodial/correctional systems, and the forensic mental health system. Specific topics addressed include community interactions and crisis intervention, comprehension of Miranda warnings, competency to stand trial, eyewitness identification procedures, admissibility of expert testimony, defenses of legal responsibility, community corrections, and ethical concerns with incarceration and eligibility for capital punishment. This book also covers the history and development of the criminal justice system, juvenile justice, and mental health systems to contextualize modern-day policies and practices. With student-friendly features, current terminology, inclusive language, and key findings for criminal justice practitioners, this book serves as both a textbook and extensive reference for courses and for those seeking to learn more about these diverse populations and to have a positive impact. The content has international implications.

Essentials of Law for Health Professionals Kim Forrester, Debra Griffiths, 2009-12-18. Essentials of Law for Health Professionals 3e has been thoroughly revised and updated throughout to reflect the most recent changes in legislation relevant to the provision of health care services in Australia. Employment status of health professionals and issues of work cover, health and safety obligations, anti-discrimination issues are clearly outlined and discussed in the new edition. Legal issues surrounding genetics, fertility, and surrogacy are reviewed in conjunction with the current position on abortion and wrongful deaths. The breadth of material is presented in a manner that is more in keeping with a student resource text rather than a law book It emphasises major points and includes summaries on how the law relates to practice rather than merely stating the law The new third edition continues to present contemporary issues relevant for Health Science students from the clinical setting through to management and employment as they apply to each state Streamlined new edition includes updates to key chapters such as Chapter 5 Negligence which has been completely rewritten to discuss negligence by jurisdiction Chapter 8 Manipulation of Life now deals with topical and controversial issues such as abortion wrongful death tissue transplants genetics and infertility Chapter 10 Contractual and Industrial Elements of Professional Practice has been updated to include the most recent changes to Industrial Relations Law information that is essential for any Health Professional entering into employment Chapter 11 Statutes Controlling Health Service Delivery has been revised with respect to drugs and continues to provide the significant legislation most likely to impact on the daily practice of the health professional namely poisons mental health legislation child and elder abuse and the notification of births and deaths New Chapter 12 Registration and Regulation of Health Professionals highlights the contemporary issues faced by health professionals with the implementation of National Registration Addition of legislation regulating research and a discussion of the legislative and common law controls on conducting research within Australian healthcare systems National Health and Medical Research Council Act Update all appendices and include the Decision Making Framework for Nurses plus Glossary Takes a multidisciplinary approach to the subject of health care law and includes case studies and activities Discussion on the implications of evidence based practice on the standard notionally attributed to the duty of care
