Why Geography Matters Harm de Blij, 2005-09-01 Over the next half century the human population divided by culture and economics and armed with weapons of mass destruction will expand to nearly 9 billion people Abrupt climate change may throw the global system into chaos China will emerge as a superpower and Islamic terrorism and insurgency will threaten vital American interests How can we understand these and other global challenges Harm de Blij has a simple answer by improving our understanding of the world s geography In Why Geography Matters de Blij demonstrates how geography s perspectives yield unique and penetrating insights into the interconnections that mark our shrinking world Preparing for climate change averting a cold war with China defeating terrorism all of this requires geographic knowledge De Blij also makes an urgent call to restore geography to America s educational curriculum He shows how and why the U S has become the world s most geographically illiterate society of consequence and demonstrates the great risk this poses to America s national security Peppering his writing with anecdotes from his own professional travels de Blij provides an original treatise that is as engaging as it is eye opening Casual or professional readers in areas such as education politics or national security will find themselves with a stimulating new perspective on geography as it continues to affect our world
