Luterbach, 2022-05-12. Creating Stellar Lessons with Digital Tools prepares teachers in training and in-service teachers to use technologies for design and development activities with middle and high school students. While software, open resources, handheld devices, and other tools hold great potential to enhance learning experiences, teachers themselves must model technology use in ways that inspire students to become producers and leaders rather than consumers and followers. Featuring concrete applications in social studies, English, mathematics, and science scenarios, this book provides pre-service and in-service teachers with seven paths to creatively integrate and innovate with computational thinking, datasets, maker spaces, visual design, media editing, and other approaches. Child Development at the Intersection of Race and SES, 2019-07-10. Child Development at the Intersection of Race and SES, Volume 57 in the Advances in Child Development and Behavior series, presents theoretical and empirical scholarship illuminating how race, ethnicity, and socioeconomic status intersect to shape children's development and developmental contexts. Important chapters in this new release include the Implications of Intersecting Socioeconomic and Racial Identities for Academic Achievement and Well-being. The home environment of low-income Latino children: Challenges and opportunities. Profiles of race, ethnicity, and socioeconomic status. Implications for ethnic/racial identity, discrimination, and sleep. Youths' sociopolitical perceptions and mental health. Intersections between race, class, and gender, and much more. Rather than focusing on the additive effects of race, ethnicity, and SES, which is typical and a limitation in the developmental literature, the scholarship in this book considers how the factors and processes shaping the development of children of color can differ markedly across the socioeconomic continuum. This collection illustrates how applying an intersectional lens to developmental science can yield unique insights into the challenges confronting and assets buoying both minority and majority children's healthy development. Includes contributions from renowned developmental scholars working at the forefront of their fields. Presents a multidisciplinary focus that will be useful to developmental psychologists, sociologists, family scientists, and those whose interests and work fall under the purview of those disciplines. Examines multiple dimensions and factors shaping childhood development. Farmers' Review, 1890. Daily Commercial Report and Market Review, 1883. The Rivalry Peril Van Jackson, Michael Brenes, 2025-01-28. How the U.S. policy of competition with China is detrimental to democracy peace and prosperity and how a saner approach is possible For close to a decade the U S government has been preoccupied with the threat of China fearing that the country will eat our lunch in the words of Joe Biden The United States has crafted its foreign and domestic policy to help constrain China s military power and economic growth Van Jackson and Michael Brenes argue that great power competition with China is misguided and vastly underestimates the costs and risks that geopolitical rivalry poses to economic prosperity the quality of democracy and ultimately global stability This in depth assessment of the trade offs and pitfalls of protracted competition with China reveals how such a policy exacerbates inequality leads to xenophobia and increases the likelihood of violence around the world In addition it distracts from the priority of addressing such issues as climate change while at the same time undercutting democratic pluralism and sacrificing liberty in the name of prevailing against an enemy other Jackson and Brenes provide an informed and urgent critique of current U S foreign policy and a road map toward a saner more democratically accountable strategy of easing tension and achieving effective diplomacy
