Kimmel, 2005-03-23 This volume brings a variety of perspectives to bear on the issue of how higher education institutions can or should choose students during the early part of the 21st century Many of the contributors report on research to develop and validate potential tools to assist those responsible for admission decisions Other contributors however pose broader questions about the nature of selective admissions about institutional responses to the changing demography of those seeking to enter higher education or about the appropriate criteria of success in higher education The volume is particularly timely because the question of how changes in admission tools and processes will affect campus diversity following the recent Supreme Court decision concerning the University of Michigan Diversity is an important concern of all of the contributors and the chapter by Lee Bollinger President at Michigan at the time the court cases were filed is particularly relevant This book brings together the research that underlies a variety of proposed approaches to improving the selection of students Providing support for the integrity of the admissions process and the validity of new tools to help a higher education institution to select a diverse student body this book explores the implications of the assessment component of K 12 school reform for higher education admissions practices The diverse contributions to this volume reflect the current ferment in educational research and educational practice as institutions of higher education seek to develop a new admissions paradigm for coming decades following the University of Michigan decisions This book is intended for those leaders and professionals who set admission policies and practices in American colleges and graduate and professional schools as well as for those scholars and scientists who research develop and validate tools for use in the process of choosing students in ways that are congruent with an institution s mission values and goals Language Power and Hierarchy Linda Tsung,2014-10-27

Shunning polemicism and fashioning a new agenda for a critically informed yet practically orientated approach this book explores aspects of multilingual education in the People s Republic of China PRC Amongst other issues it also looks at the challenges associated with bilingual and trilingual education in Xinjiang and Tibet as well as the mediation between religion and culture in multi ethnic schools covering these issues from a range of perspectives Korean Uyghur Tibetan Mongolian and Yi The PRC promotes itself as a harmonious stable multicultural mosaic with over 50 distinct ethnic groups striving for common prosperity Beneath this rhetoric there is also inter ethnic discord with scenes of ethnic violence in Lhasa and Urumqi over the last few years China has a complex system of multilingual education with dual pathway curricula bilingual and trilingual instruction specialised ethnic schools This education system is a lynchpin in the Communist party state s efforts to keep a lid on simmering tensions and transform a rhetoric of harmony into a critical pluralistic harmonious multiculturalism This book examines this supposed lynchpin
