Deutschland die Juden und der Staat Israel Olms 2016 with Julius H Schoeps Beyond Energy Jacopo Maria Pepe, 2017-11-22 Jacopo Maria Pepe examines the rapid development of non energy transport infrastructure in the broader Eurasian space By doing so the author considers the ongoing structural transformation of the Eurasian continent against the backdrop of deepening commercial interconnectivity in Eurasia into broader areas of trade supported by the rapid development of rail connectivity He frames this process in a long wave historical analysis and considers in detail the geopolitical geo economic and theoretical implications of deepening physical connectivity for the relationships among China Russia Central Asia and the European Union How the World Breaks Stan Cox, Paul Cox, 2016-07-12 We've always lived on a dangerous planet but its disasters aren't what they used to be How the World Breaks gives us a breathtaking new view of crisis and recovery on the unstable landscapes of the Earth's hazard zones Father and son authors Stan and Paul Cox take us to the explosive fire fronts of overheated Australia the future lost city of Miami the fights over whether and how to fortify New York City in the wake of Sandy the Indonesian mud volcano triggered by natural gas drilling and other communities that are reimagining their lives after quakes superstorms tornadoes and landslides In the very decade when we should be rushing to heal the atmosphere and address the enormous inequalities of risk a strange idea has taken hold of global disaster policy resilience Its proponents say that threatened communities must simply learn the art of resilience adapt to risk and thereby survive This doctrine obscures the human hand in creating disasters and requires the planet's most beleaguered people to absorb the rush of floodwaters and the crush of landslides freeing the world economy to go on undisturbed The Coxes great contribution is to pull the disaster debate out of the realm of theory and into the muck and ash of the world's broken places
There we learn that change is more than mere adaptation and life is more than mere survival Ultimately How the World Breaks reveals why unless we address the social ecological and economic roots of disaster millions more people every year will find themselves spiraling into misery It is essential reading for our time Globalization Development and Social Justice Ann El Khoury, 2015-03-27 Are there existing alternatives to corporate globalization What are the prospects for and commonalities between communities and movements such as Occupy the World Social Forum and alternative economies Globalization Development and Social Justice advances the proposition that another globalization is not only possible but already exists It demonstrates that there are multiple pathways towards development with social justice and argues that enabling propositional agency rather than oppositional agency such as resistance is a more effective alternative to neoliberal globalization El Khoury develops a theory of infraglobalization that emphasizes creative constitution not just contestation of global and local processes The book features case studies and examples of diverse economic practice and innovative emergent political forms from the Global South and North These case studies are located in the informal social economy and community development as well as everyday practices from prefigurative politics to community cooperatives and participatory planning This book makes an important contribution to debates about the prospects for and practices of a transformative grassroots globalization and to critical debates about globalization and development strategies It will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations globalization social movement studies political and economic geography sociology anthropology and development studies

Global Authoritarianism International Research Group, 2022-11-25 We are witnessing a worldwide resurgence of reactionary ideologies and movements combined with an escalating assault on democratic institutions and structures Nevertheless most studies of these phenomena remain anchored in a methodological nationalism while comparative research is almost entirely limited to the Global North Yet authoritarian transformations in the South and the struggles against them have not only been just as dramatic as those in the North but also preceded them and consequently have been studied by Southern scholars for many years This volume brings together the work of more than 15 scholar activists from across the Global South combining in depth studies of regional processes of authoritarian transformation with a global perspective on authoritarian capitalism With a foreword by Verónica Gago

Religion and Politics: New Developments Worldwide Roy C. Amore, 2019-09-17 Religion and Politics New Developments Worldwide features ten articles about recent developments in the interaction of Religion and Politics in various countries of Asia Africa Europe and both North and South America Most articles focus on one country and including China South Korea India Nigeria Malaysia France and Cuba Others address issues across regions such as Latin America Southeast Asia or the Middle East The fifteen contributors are scholars from diverse disciplines as well as diverse regions of Asia Europe Africa and the Americas Subjects include the Indian government's favoritism for Hinduism over rival religions the way the Sikhs of India avoid the religion politics divide the way the Western media fails to fully understand the Chinese government's policies on religious minorities the aftermath of the Charlie Hebdo demonstrations in France religious attitudes toward tax politics in South Korea as well as among Christians compared to Muslims how to lessen the radicalization of Muslims in Southeast Asia whether Nigeria should encourage its Muslims to be active in the Organisation of Islamic Cooperation the spiritual role played by the permaculture movement in Cuba and how the former tendency of scholars to polarize religion and politics is no longer viable especially in Latin America

Critical Urban Theory, Common Property, and “the Political” Dan Webb, 2017-05-18

Dan Webb explores an undervalued topic in the formal discipline of Political Theory and political science more broadly the urban as a level of political analysis and political struggles in urban space Because the city and urban space is so prominent in other critical disciplines most notably geography and sociology a driving question of the book is what kind of distinct contribution can political theory make to the already existing critical urban literature The answer is to be found in what Webb calls the properly political approach to understanding political conflict as developed in the work of thinkers like Chantal Mouffe Jodi Dean and Slavoj Žižek This properly political analysis is contrasted with and a curative to the predominant ethical or post political understanding of the urban found in so much of the geographical and sociological critical urban theory literature In order to illustrate this primary theoretical argument of the book Webb suggests that common property is the most useful category for conceiving the city as a site of the properly political When the city and urban space are framed within this theoretical framework critical urbanists are provided a powerful tool for understanding urban political struggles in particular anti gentrification movements in the inner city

The Political Economy of Low Carbon Transformation Harold Wilhite, 2016-03-10 Deep reductions in energy use and carbon emissions will not be possible within political economies that are driven by the capitalist imperatives of growth commodification and individualization As such it has now become necessary to understand the relationship between capitalism and the emergence of high energy habits Using the examples of home energy transport and food The Political Economy of Low Carbon Transformation articulates the relationship between the politics of economic expansion and the formation of high energy habits at the level of family and household The book elaborates a theory of habit and how it can contribute to this relationship It critiques mainstream green economy and green energy prescriptions for low carbon transformation that take economic growth for granted and ignore habits formed in a material world designed and built for high energy use The book explores the growing number of communities around the world that are engaged in collaborative efforts to reform their community and household habits in ways that are less environmentally intrusive It assesses their potential to make an impact on national and urban low carbon political agendas The book is aimed at a large and growing interdisciplinary audience interested in the relationship between political economy consumption and sustainability

Critical Geographies of Sport Natalie Koch, 2016-10-04 brings together research in geography sport studies and related disciplines includes cases from Asia Africa the Middle East Europe and the Americas fascinating reading for anyone with an interest in sport and politics sport and society or human geography Islamic Charity Samantha May, 2021-07-29 Since 9 11 and the global War on Terror practitioners of Islam in Europe and beyond have been scrutinised and surveyed under suspicion of disloyalty and as potential disrupters of national social cohesion Seemingly benign altruistic practices such as charity are viewed as potential threats to national security and have increasingly become subject to counter terrorism policies This work seeks to critically assess the assumptions behind the lesser known financial War on Terror through exploration of the effects of current policies on Muslim charitable practices in the UK The consequences of current policies are multi faceted from the stigmatization and suspicion of Muslim charities and communities individual loss of status and financial standing to a decrease of living standards and or loss of lives Engaging with the everyday socio political activities of Muslim individuals this book gives voice to the motivations apprehensions and challenges faced by Muslim charitable practitioners A must read for anyone wanting to challenge policy assumptions behind increased surveillance of charities and individual donors whilst outlining the repercussions of current policies on Muslim individuals and charities

Environmental Warfare in Gaza Shourideh C. Molavi, 2024-02-20 Almost entirely written before the catastrophic events of late 2023 this book anticipates them exposing the brutal history of crimes against trees plants and the people who live with them along the 300 mile border zone between Gaza and Israel as nothing less than 75 years of colonization Laura Kurgan Professor Columbia University A timely and very essential addition for understanding the multi layered story of Gaza and that of Palestine Beyond the familiar warfare in Gaza the book presents a unique tale of Israeli violence to reengineer the Palestinian environment Ahmad Amara lawyer and lecturer Al Quds University Provides a much needed historical context to understand unfolding events in light of the long history of Palestinian liberation struggles through the lens of environmental history Paulo Tavares architect and author The engineered perimeter around the occupied Gaza Strip is formed by a sophisticated system of fences forts and surveillance technologies With each Israeli incursion a military no go area or a buffer zone is established along its borders extending deep into Palestinian communities and farmlands in Gaza These practices reproduce Israel's eco colonial imaginary further compounding the Gaza Strip's isolation from the rest of Palestine Since 2014 the bulldozing of Palestinian lands by Israeli occupation forces has been complemented by the unannounced aerial spraying of military herbicides extending the reach of Israeli colonial violence into the realm of chemical warfare The spraying has destroyed entire swaths of arable land in Gaza contributing to decades long practices that have forcibly changed a once lush Palestinian landscape This book is a vivid document of this aspect of Israeli eco colonial warfare and the strategies of anti colonial resistance adopted by Palestinians in Gaza as a result It includes original maps images and visualizations and collects new documents original archival materials stills of drone footage first hand testimonies of farmers organizers and protesters and documents affected vegetation in Gaza as silent witnesses to Israeli settler colonial violence Shourideh C Molavi is a writer and scholar specializing in citizenship statelessness and human rights She is the dedicated Palestine Israel researcher at Forensic Architecture an independent research agency based in London and teaches at the Institute for the Study of Human Rights at Columbia University She is the author of Stateless Citizenship The Palestinian Arab Citizens of Israel

Carbon Conflicts and Forest Landscapes in Africa Melissa Leach, Ian Scoones, 2015-06-05 Amidst the pressing challenges of global climate change the last decade has seen a wave of forest carbon projects across the world designed to conserve and enhance forest carbon stocks in order to reduce carbon emissions from deforestation and offset emissions elsewhere Exploring a set of new empirical case studies Carbon Conflicts and Forest Landscapes in Africa examines how these projects are unfolding their effects and who is gaining and losing Situating forest carbon approaches as part of more general moves to address environmental problems by attaching market values to nature and ecosystems it examines how new projects interact with forest landscapes and their longer histories of intervention The book asks what difference does carbon make What political and ecological dynamics are unleashed by these new commodified marketized approaches and how are local forest users experiencing and responding to them The book's case studies cover a wide range of African ecologies project types and national political economic contexts By examining these cases in a comparative framework and within an understanding of the national regional and global institutional arrangements shaping forest carbon commoditisation the book provides a rich and compelling account of how and why carbon conflicts are emerging and how they might be avoided in future This book will be of interest to students of development studies environmental sciences geography economics development studies and anthropology as well as practitioners and policy makers

Rare Earth Frontiers Julie M. Klinger, 2018-01-15 Rare Earth Frontiers is a work of human geography that serves to demystify the powerful elements that make possible the miniaturization of electronics green energy and medical technologies and essential telecommunications and defense systems Julie Michelle Klinger draws attention to the fact that the rare earths we rely on most are as common as copper or lead and this means the implications of their extraction are global Klinger excavates the rich historical origins and ongoing ramifications of the quest to mine rare earths in ever more impossible places Klinger writes about the devastating damage to lives and the environment caused by the exploitation of rare earths She demonstrates in human terms how scarcity myths have been conscripted into diverse geopolitical campaigns that use rare earth mining as a pretext to capture spaces that have historically fallen beyond the grasp of centralized power These include legally and logistically forbidding locations in the Amazon Greenland and Afghanistan and on the Moon Drawing on ethnographic archival and interview data gathered in local languages and offering possible solutions to the problems it documents this book examines the production of the rare earth frontier as a place a concept and a zone of contestation sacrifice and transformation

Fragmenting Globalization Ka Zeng,Xiaojun Li,2021-03-15 Global supply chain integration is not only a rapidly growing feature of international trade it is responsible for fundamentally changing trade policy at international and domestic levels Given that final goods are produced with both domestic and foreign suppliers Ka Zeng and Xiaojun Li argue that global supply chain integration pits firms and industries that are more heavily dependent on foreign supply chains against those that are less dependent on intermediate goods for domestic production Hence businesses whose supply chain would be disrupted as a result of increased trade barriers should lobby for preferential trade liberalization to maintain access to those foreign markets Moreover businesses whose products are used in the production of goods in foreign countries should also support preferential trade liberalization to compete with suppliers from other parts of the world

Fragmenting Globalization uses multiple methods including time series cross sectional analysis of the pattern of Preferential Trade Alliance formation by existing World Trade Organization members a firm level survey and case studies of the pattern of corporate support for regional trade liberalization in both China and the United States Zeng and Li show that the growing fragmentation of global production trade and investment is altering trade policy away from the traditional divide between export oriented and import competing industries

Handbook of Globalisation and Development Kenneth A. Reinert,2017-03-31 Characterised by conceptual diversity the Handbook of Globalisation and Development presents contributions from prominent international researchers on all aspects of globalisation and carefully considers their role across a whole host of development processes The Handbook is structured around seven key areas international trade international production international finance migration foreign aid a broader view and challenges Adopting a multi disciplinary approach the section on a broader view delves into dimensions of globalisation and development that go beyond the mere economic such as culture technology health and poverty Carefully crafted the chapters herein offer a rigorous and comprehensive assessment of the available research to date and provide an assessment of policy options across all areas considered

Push Back Judith Large,2016-12-15 In 2009 after decades of conflict the Sri Lankan government proclaimed the decisive defeat of the Liberation Tamil Tigers of Elam Subsequently the state proved resistant to attempts by the UN and other international bodies to promote post war reconciliation or reform In this incisive new work Judith Large investigates the ways in which the Rajapaksa government was able to subvert international diplomatic efforts as well as exploring the wider context of rising Sinhalese nationalism the attendant growth of discrimination against minorities and efforts by both the diaspora and citizens within Sri Lanka to work towards a positive peace Push Back is vital reading not only for those interested in Sri Lanka but also for those concerned about the wider implications of the conflict for human rights peace making and geopolitics
