Gaule Et France Roman

John Drinkwater

Gaule Et France Roman:

Roman Gaul (Routledge Revivals) John Drinkwater, 2014-04-08 Roman Gaul first published in 1983 makes use of a wealth of archaeological discoveries and modern methods of interpretation to give an account of the Roman presence in Gaul from the time of Caesar's conquests until the Crisis of the third century. Professor Drinkwater emphasises the changes caused in the Three Gauls and Germany by the impact of Romanisation, urbanisation, agriculture, trade and education and points out the often curious ways in which Roman influences survive in these areas to the present day. Particular attention is paid to the evolution of the landowning class as well as its relationship with the artisans and traders found in townships and cities. An assessment of the strength of Romano-Gallic society and its economy in the tumultuous third century AD concludes this lively and provocative coverage of an intriguing subject. Roman Gaul will be of interest to all students of the Roman legacy. The Roman City and Its Periphery Penelope Goodman, 2006-11-07 The only monograph available on the subject, this book presents archaeological and literary evidence to provide students with a full and detailed treatment of the little investigated aspect of Roman urbanism: the phenomenon of suburban development. The Urbanisation of the North-Western Provinces of the Roman Empire Frida Pellegrino, 2020-11-26 This study investigates the development of urbanism in the north-western provinces of the Roman Empire. Key themes include continuity and discontinuity between pre-Roman and Roman urban systems, relationships between juridical statuses and levels of monumentality, levels of connectivity and economic integration and regional urban hierarchies. Houses, Villas, and Palaces in the Roman World Alexander G. McKay, 1998-05-29 In a fascinating study of ancient Roman architecture, classicist scholar Alexander McKay examines simple houses, mansions, estates and palatial buildings, interior furnishings and gardens, revealing that Roman civilization was astonishingly similar to our own. He also discusses the conditions of life in the Roman provinces. 153 illustrations. Roman Gaul and Germany Anthony King, 1990-01-01 Looks at Roman ruins in France and Germany, including recent finds and describes what life was like under the reign of the Roman Empire. Ceramics and Atlantic Connections: Late Roman and Early Medieval Imported Pottery on the Atlantic Seaboard Maria Duggan, Mark Jackson, Sam Turner, 2020-03-26 Papers focus on the pottery of Mediterranean origin imported into the Atlantic as well as ceramics of Atlantic production which had widespread distribution. They examine chronologies and relative distributions and consider the composition of key Atlantic assemblages, revealing new insights into the networks of exchange between c. 400-700 AD. Villa Landscapes in the Roman North Nico Roymans, Ton Derks, 2011 Monografie over onderzoek naar Romeinse villa's en hun omgeving in de noordelijke provincies van het Romeinse Rijk. Marble Past, Monumental Present Michael Greenhalgh, 2009 This survey and synthesis of the structural and decorative uses of Roman remains, particularly marble, throughout the mediaeval Mediterranean, deals with the Christian West but also Byzantium and Islam, each the inheritor of much Roman territory. It includes a 5000 image DVD. The Roman World Victor Chapot, 1928 Journal of Roman Pottery Studies Steven

Willis,2016-02-29 The Journal of Roman Pottery Studies continues to present a cross section of recent research not just from the UK but also Europe Volume 16 carries papers on a variety of subjects from Britain and the Continent ranging from papers dealing with production sites to those looking at the distribution of types There are case studies on kiln vessels from Essex pottery production in Roman Cologne excavations at Toulouse as well as an examination of transport routes of samian ware to Britain Also included are an editorial obituaries and book reviews Capital, Investment, and Innovation in the Roman World Paul Erdkamp,Koenraad Verboven,Arjan Zuiderhoek,2020-02-18 Investment in capital both physical and financial and innovation in its uses are often considered the linchpin of modern economic growth while credit and credit markets now seem to determine the wealth as well as the fate of nations Yet was it always thus The Roman economy was large complex and sophisticated but in terms of its structural properties did it look anything like the economies we know and are familiar with today Through consideration of the allocation and uses of capital and credit and the role of innovation in the Roman world the individual essays comprising this volume go straight to the heart of the matter exploring such questions as how capital in its various forms was generated allocated and employed in the Roman economy whether the Romans had markets for capital goods and credit and whether investment in capital led to innovation and productivity growth Their authors consider multiple aspects of capital use in agriculture water management trade and urban production and of credit provision finance and human capital covering different periods of Roman history and ranging geographically across Italy and elsewhere in the Roman world Utilizing many different types of written and archaeological evidence and employing a range of modern theoretical perspectives and methodologies the contributors an expert international team of historians and archaeologists have produced the first book length contribution to focus exclusively on physical and financial capital in the Roman world a volume that is aimed not only at specialists in the field but also at economic historians and archaeologists specializing in other periods and places Second Catalogue of the Library of the Peabody Institute of the City of Baltimore, Including the Additions Made Since 1882 George Peabody Library,1898 Colonizer or Colonized Sara E.

Melzer,2011-11-29 Colonizer or Colonized introduces two colonial stories into the heart of France s literary and cultural history The first describes elite France s conflicted relationship to the Ancient World As much as French intellectuals aligned themselves with the Greco Romans as an us they also resented the Ancients as an imperial them haunted by the memory that both the Greeks and Romans had colonized their ancestors the Gauls This memory put the elite on the defensive defending against the legacy of this colonized past and the fear that they were the barbarian other The second story mirrored the first Just as the Romans had colonized the Gauls France would colonize the New World becoming the New Rome by creating a New France Borrowing the Roman strategy the French Church and State developed an assimilationist stance towards the Amerindian barbarian This policy provided a foundation for what would become the nation s most basic stance towards the other However this version of assimilation unlike its subsequent ones encouraged the colonized and the colonizer to engage in close forms of contact such as mixed marriages and communities This book weaves these two different stories together in a triangulated dynamic It asks the Ancients to step aside to include the New World other into a larger narrative in which elite France carved out their nation s emerging cultural identity in relation to both the New World and the Ancient World

Rome and the north-western Mediterranean Toni Naco del Hoyo,Jordi Principal, Mike Dobson,2022-11-30 To date Rome s intervention to the West from the mid second century BC has not really been looked at with any sense of overview Instead there has been an unconnected series of micro regional studies looking at particular areas from the river Ebro in Spain round to Italy on the land front and from the Balearic Islands to Corsica Sardinia and even Sicily as regards the seaborne aspect In contrast the aim of this volume is to push the historical and archaeological debates about Rome s expansion beyond these traditional geographical boundaries and the discipline based previous research The entire north western Mediterranean is treated as a micro region and is addressed using various interdisciplinary approaches The result is to provide an innovative and comprehensive overview of the north western Mediterranean in a period of historical crossroads aided particularly by focusing on the connectivity and integration within this region as two interrelated issues While Republican Rome enforced itself as an expansive power towards the West all sorts of polities military operations and individuals also played a significant role in creating interconnectivity and integration of the north western Mediterranean into a new hybrid reality In order to uncover such processes of hybridisation contributors to this volume were encouraged to focus on the historical archaeological and numismatic material from several areas within the region and to incorporate aspects of interdisciplinary methodologies in order to address the region s military political social and economic interconnections with Italy Rome and each other within the overall period

The Bioarchaeology of Ritual and Religion Alexandra Livarda,Richard Madgwick,Santiago Riera Mora,2017-12-21 The Bioarchaeology of Ritual and Religion is the first volume dedicated to exploring ritual and religious practice in past societies from a variety of environmental remains Building on recent debates surrounding for instance performance materiality and the false dichotomy between ritualistic and secular behavior this book investigates notions of ritual and religion through the lens of perishable material culture Research centering on bioarchaeological evidence and drawing on methods from archaeological science has traditionally focused on functional questions surrounding environment and economy However recent years have seen an increased recognition of the under exploited potential for scientific data to provide detailed information relating to ritual and religious practice This volume explores the diverse roles of plant animal and other organic remains in ritual and religion as foods offerings sensory or healing mediums grave goods and worked artifacts It also provides insights into how archaeological science can shed light on the reconstruction of ritual processes and the framing of rituals The 14 papers showcase current and new approaches in the investigation of bioarchaeological evidence for elucidating complex social issues and worldviews The case studies are intentionally broad encompassing a range of sub disciplines of bioarchaeology including archaeobotany anthracology palynology micromorphology geoarchaeology zooarchaeology including avian and worked bone studies archaeomalacology and organic residue analysis The temporal and geographical coverage is equally wide extending across Europe from the Mediterranean and Aegean to the Baltic and North Atlantic regions and from the Mesolithic to the medieval period The volume also includes a discursive paper by Prof Brian Hayden who suggests a different interpretative framework of archaeological contexts and rituals

Urban Craftsmen and Traders in the Roman World Andrew Wilson, Miko Flohr, 2016-02-12 This volume featuring sixteen contributions from leading Roman historians and archaeologists sheds new light on approaches to the economic history of urban craftsmen and traders in the Roman world with a particular emphasis on the imperial period Combining a wide range of research traditions from all over Europe and utilizing evidence from Italy the western provinces and the Greek speaking east this edited collection is divided into four sections It first considers the scholarly history of Roman crafts and trade in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries focusing on Germany and the Anglo Saxon world and on Italy and France Chapters discuss how scholarly thinking about Roman craftsmen and traders was influenced by historical and intellectual developments in the modern world and how different national research traditions followed different trajectories throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The second section highlights the economic strategies of craftsmen and traders examining strategies of long distance traders and the phenomenon of specialization and presenting case studies of leather working and bread baking In the third section the human factor in urban crafts and trade including the role of apprenticeship gender freedmen and professional associations is analysed and the volume ends by exploring the position of crafts in urban space considering the evidence for artisanal clustering in the archaeological and papyrological record and providing case studies of the development of commercial landscapes at Aquincum on the Danube and at Sagalassos in Pisidia

Studies of Roman Imperialism William Thomas Arnold, Mrs. Humphry Ward, Charles Edward Montague, 1906 Dictionnaire D'archéologie Chrétienne Et de Liturgie, Publié Par Le R. P. Dom Fernand Cabrol ... Avec Le Concours D'un Grand Nombre de Collaborateurs Fernand Cabrol, 1926 French Inside Out Henriette Walter, 2003-09-02 In this comprehensive introduction Henriette Walter provides the reader with a panoramic view of the development of the French language in the past present and future She takes the reader on a rapid and lively journey through the historical development of the language from its Latin origins to the present day She goes on to set the language in its linguistic context by surveying its surviving and vanished dialects and regional variations of the language within France Widening her focus Walter examines French throughout the world giving examples of the pronunciation and vocabulary of each region or nation Finally she looks at French today its structure the effects of social change on the language and its future in an increasingly English dominated world This stimulating and entertaining account offers students of French a clear and accessible introduction to the language The wealth of information it provides is reflected in the extensive bibliography four indices and numerous world lists maps and diagrams
