Chinese Students in UK Further Education Rosemary A. Reynolds, 2017-12-15 Chinese students in the UK have been increasing in number for many years yet competition from other Western educators and increasing investment in China s own education system has led to concern that UK institutions may soon see a decline in their market share Dr Reynolds addresses this issue in Chinese Students in UK Further Education by attempting to understand students experiences from their perspective Beginning with an exploration of why these students choose to come and study in the UK and why they are coming at younger ages the book goes on to discuss topics such as risk technology and diversity in order to understand which factors have the greatest influence on where they choose to study and whether they choose to remain at an institution Drawing on data from two different education institutions providers of GCSE A level programmes for students aged 16 18 years Dr Reynolds attempts to understand what these students experience during their studies how they manage new social relationships and whether upon course completion they achieved the results they desired at the outset Moreover the book aims to ascertain whether the students feel in hindsight that the decision to risk investing in UK further education was right and what they might communicate about UK study to contacts in China and elsewhere The book examines what further education institutions do well and where they might improve to help develop Chinese students educational experiences As such it will be essential reading for academics researchers and postgraduates in the fields of further education sociology of education international and intercultural education and mobility studies

House of Commons. Education Committee, 2013 The Government s plans for replacing GCSEs with new English Baccalaureate Certificates in some subjects is trying to do too much too fast Introducing several fundamental changes at the same time and to a tight timetable will jeopardise the quality of the reforms and may threaten the stability of the wider exam system GCSEs need significant improvements in order to restore public confidence in the exam system but the Government still needs to make the case that the GCSE brand is so discredited that it is beyond repair MPs are also concerned about the impact of the changes on subjects outside the English Baccalaureate where students will be taking GCSEs for some time to come according to the Government's plans The report also questions how well the Government's proposals will serve lower attaining pupils who are often the most disadvantaged There is no evidence that the proposed changes will help to tackle under achievement or narrow the attainment gap between the richest and poorest students any more effectively than GCSEs The Government is also called upon to re think its plans for a Statement of Achievement specifically for lower attaining pupils MPs agree that changes are needed to the way in which exams are run but they raise serious concerns about franchising subjects to exam boards The report is critical of the Government's decision to abolish some GCSEs before publishing the outcomes of the National Curriculum Review and its proposed changes to the school accountability system MPs also note the wide ranging stakeholder opposition to many of the Government's proposals

Threshold Concepts in the Moment, 2024-04-22 In the twenty years since Ray Land and Erik Meyer published their first paper on Threshold Concepts there has been a steady stream of papers mulling over their original suggestions that learning far from proceeding in an orderly fashion is instead a process of struggle perhaps alienation and confusion that puts students in a troublesome liminal in between state As their understanding develops liminality gives way to transformational insight whereby a whole field of study comes often quite abruptly into focus There is a gain but often also a loss in this new world old certainties assumptions and even aspects of our identity can be left by the wayside Threshold Concepts in the Moment is the sixth collection in the series on the subject of Threshold Concepts following the 8th Biennial Conference held in 2021 anchored at London s UCL but running online across the world Its contributors who range from old hands to new members of the community finding their feet mull over the insights of the threshold concepts framework in higher education scrutinise their own fields of study explore the implications of liminality for pedagogy and becoming professional practitioners and consider the broad implications for pedagogy of factoring in the troublesomeness of knowledge and learning Parliamentary Debates (Hansard). Margaret Thatcher Charles Moore,2013-04-25 One of the best political biographies I have ever read Dominic Sandbrook Sunday Times Not For Turning is the first volume of Charles Moore s authorized biography of Margaret Thatcher the longest serving Prime Minister of the twentieth century and one of the most influential political figures of the postwar era Charles Moore s biography of Margaret Thatcher published after her death on 8 April 2013 immediately supercedes all earlier books written about her At the moment when she becomes a historical figure this book also makes her into a three dimensional one for the first time It gives unparalleled insight into her early life and formation especially through her extensive correspondence with her sister which Moore is the first author to draw on It recreates brilliantly the atmosphere of British politics as she was making her way and takes her up to what was arguably the zenith of her power victory in the Falklands This volume ends with the Falklands Dinner in Downing Street in November 1982 Moore is clearly an admirer of his subject but he does not shy away from criticising her or identifying weaknesses and mistakes where he feels it is justified Based on unrestricted access to all Lady Thatcher s papers unpublished interviews with her and all her major colleagues this is the indispensable fully rounded portrait of a towering figure of our times Practical Theorising in Teacher Education Katharine Burn,Trevor Mutton,Ian Thompson,2022-07-28 This insightful collection offers a timely contribution to the body of research on practical theorising in teacher education Acknowledging the importance of experience and reflective practice in teaching this book simultaneously embraces the essential need for teachers at all career stages to engage effectively and critically with evidence from research Drawing together a range of perspectives from university based and school based teacher educators this book examines the challenges and critiques advanced when practical theorising was first proposed as well as recent tensions created by the performative culture that now pervades education It illustrates the constant renegotiation and renewal necessary to sustain such an approach to beginners learning investigating a range of tools developed by teacher educators to help beginning teachers navigate these demands Demonstrating the value of practical theorising and therefore promoting powerful professional learning for practitioners this book is essential for teachers at all career stages including trainee teachers and student teachers The Parliamentary Debates (Hansard).
