Sick Schools David V. Anderson, 2020-01-10 Who s afraid of for profit education Those who work in non profit or government owned and operated schools Many parents and other stakeholders have been made fearful by this education establishment What s more important to humans nutrition or education Nutrition is more important because it is the prerequisite for other human activities including education What organizations provide food and who pays for the food Food is provided by for profit farmers for profit processors for profit wholesalers and for profit retailers Most food is purchased with the consumers

own money but a significant amount is purchased by low income individuals using food stamps Why can't education be provided similarly using education stamps We trust for profit enterprises to provide our food Why can't we trust for profit enterprises to provide K 12 education Fearmongers have frightened us and made us into gullible compliant socialists who despise commercial activities in education Go to the supermarket and ponder its marvelous array of foods and then contemplate how a for profit K 12 education sector would please and amaze its customers Taking Back Philosophy

Bryan W. Van Norden, 2017-12-05 Are American colleges and universities failing their students by refusing to teach the philosophical traditions of China India Africa and other non Western cultures This biting and provocative critique of American higher education says yes Even though we live in an increasingly multicultural world most philosophy departments stubbornly insist that only Western philosophy is real philosophy and denigrate everything outside the European canon In Taking Back Philosophy Bryan W Van Norden lambastes academic philosophy for its Eurocentrism insularity and complicity with nationalism and issues a ringing call to make our educational institutions live up to their cosmopolitan ideals In a cheeky agenda setting and controversial style Van Norden an expert in Chinese philosophy proposes an inclusive multicultural approach to philosophical inquiry He showcases several accessible examples of how Western and Asian thinkers can be brought into productive dialogue demonstrating that philosophy only becomes deeper as it becomes increasingly diverse and pluralistic Taking Back Philosophy is at once a manifesto for multicultural education an accessible introduction to Confucian and Buddhist philosophy a critique of the ethnocentrism and anti intellectualism characteristic of much contemporary American politics a defense of the value of philosophy and a liberal arts education and a call to return to the search for the good life that defined philosophy for Confucius Socrates and the Buddha Building on a popular New York Times opinion piece that suggested any philosophy department that fails to teach non Western philosophy should be renamed a Department of European and American Philosophy this book will challenge any student or scholar of philosophy to reconsider what constitutes the love of wisdom On Class, Race, and Educational Reform Antonia Darder, Cleveland Hayes II, Howard Ryan, 2023-03-23

On Class, Race, and Educational Reform provokes new dialogue between Marxists critical race theory scholars and other race inspired educational theorists with the aim of countering racism and class inequalities The book opens with a lead chapter by Howard Ryan a doctoral student with a background in teaching and labor organizing that substantively engages questions of class race and educational reform In response to the opening chapter educational theorists from Germany South Africa the UK and the USA provide insightful and penetrating responses highlighting the differences and similarities in perspectives The responses show how educators can overcome theoretical differences to create international collaborations and educational campaigns of solidarity that counter the treacherous impact of racism and class inequalities in the classroom and beyond The book includes a Foreword by Stephen Brookfield University of St Thomas USA and an Afterword by Cheryl Matias University of Kentucky USA Equitable Literacy Instruction for Students in Poverty Doris Walker-Dalhouse, Victoria J. Risko, Differences in performance between students of poverty and more advantaged students are reflective of an opportunity gap as opposed to a gap in student ability This book argues that significant attention must be given to eliminating the barriers that produce educational inequities in student achievement Walker Dalhouse and Risko focus on disparities in literacy achievement that might be attributed to color blind practices deficit mindsets low expectations or context neutral practices Situating literacy learning within a comprehensive view of literacy development they provide a set of instructional practices that will best support students living in poverty Specifically vignettes from kindergarten through middle school classrooms are used to demonstrate practices that address critical areas of the reading process are responsive to students racial ethnic cultural gender and linguistic histories and assets attend to students strengths and needs and go beyond the impact of short term testing to support optimal and sustainable learning Educators and school leaders can use this resource to transform schools into nurturing and vibrant communities that are committed to change equity and diversity Book Features Provides recommendations and detailed guidance for enacting literacy instruction that will close opportunity gaps for students living in poverty Includes vignettes from leading literacy educators and researchers that demonstrate high quality literacy instruction implemented in K 8 classrooms Presents instruction that is responsive to differences and honors the languages literacies and cultural resources that students bring to their learning Offers specific recommendations and practices that can guide advocacy for change The authors correct the deficit misperceptions by showing how students experiencing poverty are the targets not the causes of educational disparities What a different world schools would be if we each embraced these lessons From the Afterword by Paul C Gorski founder Equity Literacy Institute
