Medical Biotechnology Innovation in India P. Omkar Nadh, 2022-06-03 This book examines the medical biotechnology industry in India through the lens of a critical political economy. It discusses the sharp trajectory of growth in the biotechnology business and the state of investments, subsidies and patents which propelled the rise of the industry in India. The book uses in-depth interviews and case studies to analyse the roles of various financial actors, state institutions and academia in the medical biotechnology ecosystem. Focusing on the relationship between India's neoliberal policies and the swift growth of the industry, the author examines the merits and demerits of the current market-driven biomedical ecosystem, exploring the trends in the industry, biomedical start-ups, the use of human resources and capital accumulation process. The book reiterates and emphasises the need for the democratisation of scientific and medical work and for striking a balance between economic gains and public health priorities. Comprehensive and insightful, this book will be of interest to scholars and researchers of science, technology, society studies, public health, economics, business studies, medical sociology, public policy and political science.

International Intervention, Identity and Conflict Transformation Timea Spitka, 2015-12-22 This book addresses the challenges of international intervention in violent conflicts and its impact on groups in conflict. When the international community intervenes in a violent internal conflict, intervening powers may harden divisions, constructing walls between groups or they may foster transformation, soften barriers and build bridges between conflicting groups. This book examines the different types of external processes and their respective contributions to softening or hardening divisions between conflicting groups. It also analyses the types of conflict resolution strategies.

including integration accommodation and partitioning and investigates the conditions under which the international community decides to pursue a particular strategy and how the different strategies contribute to solidification or transformation of group identities The author uses three case studies Bosnia and Herzegovina BiH Northern Ireland and Israel Palestine to reveal how different types of external interventions impact on the identities of conflicting groups The volume seeks to address how states and international organizations ought to intervene in order to stimulate the building of bridges rather than walls between conflicting groups In doing so the book sheds light on some of the pitfalls in international interventions and highlights the importance of united external process and inclusive identity strategies that promote transformation and bridge differences between conflicting groups This book will be of much interest to students of intervention peace and conflict studies ethnic conflict security studies and IR

Deadly Voyages Steven W. Bender, Veronica Fynn Bruey, 2019-12-16 Deadly Voyages Migrant Journeys across the Globe explores the burdens and impact of perilous migration while considering which laws policies practices and venues might establish empathy and protection for migrants This interdisciplinary volume envisions and calls for a transformation in migration policy motivated by the common goal of drastically reducing the peril migrants face when compelled to make their treacherous journeys All contributors to this volume agree on the inadequacy of current approaches and the dire need for change in global migration law and policy Therefore the book seeks to inform educate persuade and facilitate newer or less heard perspectives toward wider participation and influence within the forced migration policy debate Guided by the famous advice of Karl Marx that the point should be changing the world rather than merely analyzing or interpreting it the contributors suggest practical measures to fix the current gap in responses to migrant peril along with strategies for diagnosing countering and promoting human dignity and social justice with the aim of preventing future deaths and injuries in migrant journeys across the globe

Technological Innovation in Legacy Sectors William B. Bonvillian, Charles Weiss, 2015-08-18 The American economy faces two deep problems expanding innovation and raising the rate of quality job creation Both have roots in a neglected problem the resistance of Legacy economic sectors to innovation While the U S has focused its policies on breakthrough innovations to create new economic frontiers like information technology and biotechnology most of its economy is locked into Legacy sectors defended by technological economic political social paradigms that block competition from disruptive innovations that could challenge their models Americans like to build technology covered wagons and take them out west to open new innovation frontiers we don't head our wagons back east to bring innovation to our Legacy sectors By failing to do so the economy misses a major opportunity for innovation which is the bedrock of U S competitiveness and its standard of living Technological Innovation in Legacy Sectors uses a new unifying conceptual framework to identify the shared features underlying structural obstacles to innovation in major Legacy sectors energy air and auto transport the electric power grid buildings manufacturing agriculture health care delivery and higher education and develops approaches to understand and transform them It finds both strengths and obstacles to innovation in the national innovation environments a new concept that combines the innovation system and the broader innovation context for a group of Asian and European economies Manufacturing is a major Legacy sector that presents a particular challenge because it is a critical stage in the innovation process By increasingly offshoring production the U S is losing important parts of its innovation capacity Innovate here produce here where the U S took all the gains of its strong innovation system at every stage is being replaced by innovate here produce there which threatens to lead to produce there innovate there To bring innovation to Legacy sectors authors William Bonvillian and Charles Weiss recommend that policymakers focus on all stages of innovation from research through implementation They should fill institutional gaps in the innovation system and take measures to address structural obstacles to needed disruptive innovations In the specific case of advanced manufacturing the production ecosystem can be recreated to reverse jobless innovation and add manufacturing led innovation to the U S's still strong research oriented innovation system

Secrets of the Cold War Andrew Long, 2024-01-05 The dramatic story of how the superpowers collected secrets and used intelligence to build an advantage during the Cold War the longest and most dangerous confrontation of the twentieth century The Cold War which lasted from the end of the Second World War to the collapse of the Soviet Union in 1991 was fought mostly in the shadows with the superpowers maneuvering for strategic advantage in an anticipated global armed confrontation that thankfully never happened How did the intelligence organizations of the major world powers go about their work What advantages were they looking for Did they succeed By examining some of the famous infamous or lesser known intelligence operations from both sides of the Iron Curtain this book explains how the superpowers went about gathering intelligence on each other examines the type of information they were looking for what they did with it and how it enabled them to stay one step ahead of the opposition Possession of these secrets threatened a Third World War but also helped keep the peace for more than four decades With access to previously unreleased material the author explores how the intelligence organizations both civilian and military took advantage of rapid developments in technology and how they adapted to the changing threat The book describes the epic scale of some of these operations the surprising connections between them and how they contributed to a complex multi layered intelligence jigsaw which drove decision making at the highest level On top of all the tradecraft gadgets and cloak and dagger the book also looks at the human side of espionage their ideologies and motivations the winners and losers and the immense courage and frequent betrayal of those whose lives were touched by the Secrets of the Cold War

Hard Target Stephan Haggard, Marcus Noland, 2017-05-30 Because authoritarian regimes like North Korea can impose the costs of sanctions on their citizens these regimes constitute hard targets Yet authoritarian regimes may also be immune and even hostile to economic inducements if such inducements imply reform and opening This book captures the effects of sanctions and inducements on North Korea and provides a detailed reconstruction of the role of economic incentives in the bargaining around the country's nuclear program Stephan Haggard and Marcus Noland draw on an array of evidence to show the reluctance of the North Korean leadership to weaken its grip on foreign economic activity They argue that inducements have limited effect on the regime and instead urge policymakers to think in terms of gradual strategies Hard Target connects economic statecraft to the marketization process to understand North Korea and addresses a larger debate over the merits and demerits of engagement with adversaries
