

DEV PSYCH: LIFESPAN EXAM ONE – STUDY GUIDE

Watch the videos that are posted on Canvas! I will include questions from these videos on the exam***

Chapter 1:

- Difference between life-span and life-expectancy
- Know chronological age, bio age, psych age, and social age.
- What is the new updated life-span perspective? What view has changed?
- Be able to define and give examples of normative age-graded influences, normative history-graded influences, and nonnormative life events.
- Define ethnicity and SES
- What does plasticity mean?
- Be able to explain epigenetics
- Why do some psychologists propose pushing back early adulthood time period to 30-45? Read this in your book.
- Steps to the scientific method – starting with observation!
- Must know the 5 different theoretical orientations. What does each mean? We spent a good amount of time reviewing this section in Chapter 1. Please read through this in your book! This means that you need to know the major researcher for each theory and what they proposed.
 - Example: You do not need to know the specifics for oral, anal, phallic, latency, and genital stage but you DO need to know Freud and that he's the one who introduced the psychosexual development perspective.
 - Example: Erikson's perspective is different than Freud because _____. I don't expect you to know all the exact info for each psychosocial stage yet. For now, you need to know why he proposed that theory. Why is it important?
 - Same goes for cognitive (Piaget and Vygotsky), Behaviorism (Skinner), Behavioral and Social Cognitive (Bandura), and Ethology (Lorenz and Bowlby).
 - What's another name for behaviorism and why?
- You do NOT need to review Ecological Theory or Information-Processing Theory
- Three kinds of descriptive research: observational studies (both types), case studies, and surveys/interviews) and be able to give examples of each.
- How do you decrease the social desirability effect? What is the wording effect?
- Correlation – what does r stand for? Which is the stronger correlation, $r = -.75$ or $r = .50$?
- Positive and negative correlation. Remember that both variables go in the same direction when they are positively correlated and both variables go in opposite directions when they are negatively correlated. Be able to apply these concepts to examples.
- CORRELATION DOES NOT MEAN CAUSATION – never ever use the word cause and effect when you are describing a correlation between variables. Instead say the relationship or association between variables.
- What are the two main requirements of a true experiment? Remember it is manipulation and random assignment.
- Independent variable and dependent variable. Be able to identify these in a word problem.

Life Span Motor Development Sixth Edition With Web Study Guide uses the model of constraints in discussing reasons for changes in movement throughout the life span. Focusing on assessment more heavily than previous editions, this updated edition encourages students to examine how the interactions of the individual, environment, and task bring about changes in a person's movements. The principles of motor development are presented in an accessible manner so that even readers with minimal movement science background will comprehend the material. A key component of the sixth edition is an improved web study guide featuring revised lab activities and better functionality. New to this edition, lab activity record sheets and questions are available as fillable documents so that students can complete and submit them electronically, resulting in increased efficiency and reduced paperwork for instructors. In several labs, guided assessments teach students to observe video and categorize movements accurately. These assessments cue students to look at particular parts of the movement and guide students through questions, answers, and feedback. Then students are provided opportunities for unguided assessments via video clips or live observation putting into practice what they have learned in the guided assessments There are also over 100 new video clips in the web study guide including a comprehensive video diary of the motor development milestones in the first nine months of a baby's life Life Span Motor Development Sixth Edition contains several other updates that are appealing to instructors and students alike A new full color interior provides for a more engaging presentation of the material Updated research includes Generation R studies and connections to fitness and motor skills An updated presentation package and image bank plus a test package and chapter quizzes are included An instructor guide includes recommendations on using the lab activities in the web study guide both in and out of class Multiple learning exercises that were previously part of the web resource have been moved to the book to allow the video rich lab activities to occupy students learning time when they are online As in past editions students understand how maturational age and chronological age are distinct and how functional constraints affect motor skill development and learning It also covers normal and abnormal developmental issues across the full life span especially in the formative years The text shows how the four components of physical fitness cardiorespiratory endurance strength flexibility and body composition interact to affect a person's movements over the life span It also describes how relevant social cultural psychosocial and cognitive influences can affect a person's movements Significant updates focus on assessment including new figures that help to explain in detail the functional constraints approach to assessment Life Span Motor Development Sixth Edition not only provides students with the observational skills necessary for assessing motor development but it also expertly ties the information to real life The text continues to emphasize the application of motor development concepts to the real world by beginning each chapter with an example of a common experience and then revisiting that experience at the end of the chapter allowing readers to apply the material to the example The book also retains the objectives running glossary and key points sidebars and application questions throughout each chapter Life Span Motor Development Sixth Edition encompasses the most current research in motor development It is enhanced with practical online resources for instructors and students making the concepts of motor development come alive The text gives students a solid foundation not only for beginning their studies in motor development but also for applying the concepts to real world situations
