Each of the chapters addresses scientific principles behind processing and production, production details, equipment and facilities for industrial production, and finally aerospace application areas of these material technologies. The chapters are authored by pioneers of industrial aerospace material technologies. This book has a well-planned layout in 4 parts. The first part deals with primary metal and material processing, including nano manufacturing. The second part deals with materials characterization and testing methodologies and technologies. The third part addresses structural design. Finally, several advanced material technologies are covered in the fourth part. Some key advanced topics such as Structural Design by ASIP, Damage Mechanics Based Life Prediction and Extension, and Principles of Structural Health Monitoring are dealt with at equal length as the traditional aerospace materials technology topics. This book will be useful to students, researchers, and professionals working in the domain of aerospace materials.
