The Post-Election Violence in Kenya Sosteness Francis Materu, 2014-12-04. Since the historic Nuremberg Trial of 1945, an international customary law principle has developed that commission of a core crime under international law—war crimes, genocide, crimes against humanity and aggression—should not go unpunished. History shows that when in Africa such violations occurred, especially as a result of election disputes, national and regional actors, including the African Union, resorted to political rather than legal responses. However, when crimes against humanity were alleged to have been committed in Kenya during the 2007-2008 post-election violence, a promising road map for criminal accountability was agreed upon alongside a political solution. In the spirit of this road map, the author analyzes the post-election violence in Kenya from a legal point of view. He extensively examines legal options for domestic criminal accountability and discusses both retributive prosecutions and restorative justice, mainly truth commission mechanisms, being the main legal responses to the gross violations of human rights. Furthermore, he thoroughly investigates the Kenya situation before the ICC and the legal and political responses to the ICC intervention in Kenya. Practitioners and academics in the field of international criminal law and related disciplines, as well as political sciences and legal history, will find in this book highly relevant information about alternative legal approaches of the fight against and punishment of crimes against humanity as defined under the ICC Statute.

Knabe,2023-02-20 Numerous studies concerning transitional justice exist However comparatively speaking the effects actually achieved by measures for coming to terms with dictatorships have seldom been investigated There is an even greater lack of transnational analyses This volume contributes to closing this gap in research To this end it analyses processes of coming to terms with the past in seven countries with different experiences of violence and dictatorship Experts have drawn up detailed studies on transitional justice in Albania Argentina Ethiopia Chile Rwanda South Africa and Uruguay Their analyses constitute the empirical material for a comparative study of the impact of measures introduced within the context of transitional justice It becomes clear that there is no sure formula for dealing with dictatorships Successes and deficits alike can be observed in relation to the individual instruments of transitional justice from criminal prosecution to victim compensation Nevertheless the South American states perform much better than those on the African continent This depends less on the instruments used than on political and social factors Consequently strategies of transitional justice should focus more closely on these contextual factors      Impacting Society Positively Through Technology in Accounting and Business Processes Tankiso Moloi,2025-05-09 This conference volume discusses the findings of the iCAB 2024 conference that took place in Sun City South Africa on June 27 28 2024 The University of Johannesburg hosted the iCAB 2024 conference with the aim to bring together researchers from different Accounting and Business Management fields to share ideas and discuss how new disruptive technological developments are impacting the field of accounting The conference was sponsored by the Association of International Certified Professional Accountants AICPA CIMA      African Paleoeology and Human Evolution Sally C.
