Command terms

Classification of command terms

In the learning outcomes (see syllabus content) the command terms are associated with assessment objectives 1, 2 or 3 and indicate the depth of understanding that is required of students in relation to each item of content. The grouping of command terms under assessment objectives reflects the cognitive demand of each term and is related to Bloom's taxonomy.

A command term used in an examination question will be:

- the same as that specified in the related learning outcome, or
- another command term associated with the same assessment objective, or
- a command term of less cognitive demand.

For example, if a learning outcome begins with the command term "explain", an examination question based on this learning outcome could contain the command term "explain", another command term associated with assessment objective 2 (such as "analyse"), or a command term associated with assessment objective 1 (such as "describe"), but not a command term associated with assessment objective 3 (such as "evaluate").

Drawing Futures Bob Sheil, Frédéric Migayrou, Luke Pearson, Laura Allen, 2016-11-11 Drawing Futures brings together international designers and artists for speculations in contemporary drawing for art and architecture Despite numerous developments in technological manufacture and computational design that provide new grounds for designers the act of drawing still plays a central role as a vehicle for speculation There is a rich and long history of drawing tied to innovations in technology as well as to revolutions in our philosophical understanding of the world In reflection of a society now underpinned by computational networks and interfaces allowing hitherto unprecedented views of the world the changing status of the drawing and its representation as a political act demands a platform for reflection and innovation Drawing Futures will present a compendium of projects writings and interviews that critically reassess the act of drawing and where its future may lie Drawing Futures focuses on the discussion of how the field of drawing may expand synchronously alongside technological and computational developments The book coincides with an international conference of the same name taking place at The Bartlett School of Architecture UCL in November 2016 Bringing together practitioners from many creative fields the book discusses how drawing is changing in relation to new technologies for the production and dissemination of ideas

Law and Regulation of Mobile Payment Systems Joy Malala, 2017-11-28 Over the last ten years mobile payment systems have revolutionised banking in some countries in Africa In Kenya the introduction of M Pesa a new financial services model has transformed the banking and financial services industry Giving the unbanked majority access to the financial services market it has attracted over 18 million subscribers which is remarkable given that fewer than 4 million people in Kenya have bank accounts This book addresses the legal and regulatory issues arising out of the introduction of M Pesa in Kenya and its drive towards financial inclusion It considers the interaction between regulation and technological innovation with a particular focus on the regulatory tools institutional arrangements and government decisional processes through the examination as a whole of its regulatory capacity This is done with a view to understanding the regulatory capacity of Kenya in addressing the vulnerabilities presented by technological innovation in the financial industry for consumers after financial inclusion It also examines the way that mobile payments have been regulated by criticising the piecemeal approach that the Central Bank of Kenya has taken in addressing the legal and regulatory issues presented by mobile payments The book argues there are significant gaps in the regulatory regime of mobile banking in Kenya

From Oil to Cities The World Bank, 2016-06-03 The Nigeria Urbanization Review serves the critical and timely purpose of understanding the challenges and opportunities of urbanization in Nigeria The country's rapid urban population growth and expansion is examined in relation to the account of its recent urban economic growth in order to seek for ways to finance urban development particularly the provision of urban public goods and services The objective of this analytical program is to provide diagnostic tools to inform policy dialogue and investment priorities on urbanization This report serves the critical and timely purpose of focusing attention on the challenges and opportunities of urbanization in Nigeria The executive summary at the front summarizes the key trends of Nigeria's urbanization and sets out a framework to structure core urban challenges in view of underlying causes Detailed analyses follow in the subsequent four chapters In Chapter 1 the dynamics of Nigeria's urbanization process are presented with particular attention to the country's rapid urban population growth the very large scale urban expansion and the stubborn persistence of high levels of urban poverty inequality and regional disparity Chapter 2 provides an account of Nigeria's recent urban economic growth in view of the nature of the concentration of economic activity across the country's states and cities and of the limited performance of urban and regional economies in generating higher levels of employment and improving business climates Chapter 3 turns to description and assessment of land management urban planning and housing provision procedures and systems which face a variety of challenges with regard to costs affordability capacity equity and efficiency Finally Chapter 4 deals with the financing of urban development particularly the provision of urban public goods and services which is in need of both substantial finance and institutional and systemic improvements and reform

From Belonging to Belief Julie McBrien,2017-06-08 From Belonging to Belief presents a nuanced ethnographic study of Islam and secularism in post Soviet Central Asia as seen from the small town of Bazaar Korgon in southern Kyrgyzstan Opening with the juxtaposition of a statue of Lenin and a mosque in the town square Julie McBrien proceeds to peel away the multiple layers that have shaped the return of public Islam in the region She explores belief and nonbelief varying practices of Islam discourses of extremism and the role of the state to elucidate the everyday experiences of Bazaar Korgonians McBrien shows how Islam is explored lived and debated in both conventional and novel sites a Soviet era cleric who continues to hold great influence popular television programs religious instruction at wedding parties clothing celebrations and others Through ethnographic research McBrien reveals how moving toward Islam is not a simple step but rather a deliberate and personal journey of experimentation testing and knowledge acquisition Moreover she argues that religion is not always a matter of belief sometimes it is essentially about belonging From Belonging to Belief offers an important corrective to studies that focus only on the pious turns among Muslims in Central Asia and instead shows the complex process of evolving religion in a region that has experienced both Soviet atheism and post Soviet secularism each of which has profoundly formed the way Muslims interpret and live Islam

Orthodox Christian Material Culture Timothy Carroll,2018-05-15 Although much has been written on the making of art objects as a means of engaging in creative productions of the self most famously Alfred Gell s work there has been very little written on Orthodox Christianity and its use of material within religious self formation Eastern Orthodox Christianity is renowned for its artistry and the aesthetics of its worship being an integral part of devout practice Yet this is an area with little ethnographic exploration available and even scarcer ethnographic attention given to the material culture of Eastern Christianity outside the traditional homelands of the greater Levant and Eastern Europe Drawing from and building upon Gell s work Carroll explores the uses and purposes of material culture in Eastern Orthodox Christian worship Drawing on three years of ethnographic fieldwork in a small Antiochian Orthodox parish in London Carroll focusses on a study of ecclesiastical fabric but places this within the wider context of Orthodox material ecology in Britain This ethnographic exploration leads to discussion of the role of materials in the construction of religious identity material understandings of religion and pathways of pilgrimatic engagement and religious movement across Europe In a religious tradition characterised by repetition and continuity but also as sensuously tactile this book argues that material objects are necessary for the continual production of Orthodox Christians as art like subjects It is an important contribution to the corpus of literature on the anthropology of material culture and art and the anthropology of religion
