Critical Thinking for Marketers, Volume I David Dwight, Terry Grapentine, David Soorholtz, 2016-12-02 All marketing actions whether preceded by formal or informal decision making processes are based on what philosophers call arguments An argument is a set of related statements comprising premises and a conclusion Ideally premises give an audience good reasons for accepting your argument s conclusion In marketing these conclusions are normative decisions about what an organization should do for example raise prices by five percent add a new sales territory or perhaps change the marketing communications mix to invest more in digital and less in print The premises are the rationale behind why the organization should take such actions Critical Thinking for Marketers Learn How to Think Not What to Think provides information and guidelines on not only how to develop good arguments but also what it means to develop a good argument For example the book describes two basic kinds of arguments deductive and inductive and how to examine whether such arguments are good or not To do this the book explains 60 logical fallacies or errors in reasoning that marketers should avoid Additionally the authors several Think Better discussions examine how fields such as philosophy behavioral economics and marketing theory

have informed the principles of critical thinking in marketing Attractive Thinking Chris Radford, 2019-11-01 Forget everything you've been told about maximizing Lifetime Customer Value To take your business to the next level you need a brand strategy that's focused on attracting new customers not exploiting existing ones In this transparent digital age smart business leaders know that profitable growth comes from helping customers not exploiting them Attractive Thinking sets out a ground breaking methodology developed during 30 years experience transforming brands for Pepsi Mars Miracle Gro and many high end service businesses to achieve exactly that Discover the five key questions you must answer to create a better brand strategy and the tools to deliver it clarity on what matters to customers products and services that customers love marketing that attracts them and a team that is committed to delivering it Attractive Thinking is a practical handbook for CEOs managing directors and marketers who want to make the big brand techniques work for them Critical Thinking for Marketers, Volume II David Dwight, Terry Grapentine, David Soorholtz, 2016-12-02 This second volume of Critical Thinking for Marketers expands your background knowledge of other areas of critical thinking that are making major contributions to both marketing as a social science and marketing as an applied science Section I Think Better provides introductory discussions of marketing as a science the difference between correlation and causation the meaning of what a concept is and why it is critical for marketers to develop good concept definitions e.g. What is customer satisfaction why the 18th century Scottish philosopher David Hume is relevant to marketers today and the impact that behavioral economics is having on how marketers do their job Section II Cognitive Biases and Their Importance talks about recent discoveries in cognitive psychology and neuroscience that have relevance to marketers You'll learn that marketers need to be aware of their own cognitive biases and irrational thinking processes which often lead to making bad decisions and that the retail and business customers we market to are not as rational as we may think and hope they are Finally Section III Conclusions draws on both Volumes I and II to summarize the book's primary messages with helpful hints on applying your new tools and making better marketing decisions Teaching Marketing Brennan, Ross, Vos, Lynn, 2021-11-19 Teaching Marketing prompts the reader to reflect on why marketing is taught how it is taught and what should be included in curricula in tertiary level programmes The international contributors have a wide range of expertise in marketing education and provide their own perspectives on these questions while considering a variety of different points of view so encouraging the reader to develop their own opinion

Marketing Effectiveness Sorin Patilinet, 2025-08-03 In recent years with tightening budgets an explosion of data points and advancements in analytical methods marketers are now more than ever expected to deliver quantifiable results This is where marketing effectiveness comes in Contrary to popular belief marketing effectiveness is not just about the measuring of ROI The lens of effectiveness must be applied to all marketing mix elements from strategy to pricing and product to media and advertising It's a strategic shift that demands robust evidence based decisions and consistent application in order to grow Written by leading marketing practitioner Sorin Patilinet this book enables mid senior level marketers to integrate the scientific methods and advanced measurements required for true marketing effectiveness into their marketing strategies in order to reap the benefits of strong customer understanding and developing decision making processes for growth. Covering everything from neuroscience and its application to marketing to advanced analytics and machine learning models, this book provides a comprehensive practical guide for marketers. It also takes a look into the future of how AI will impact the use of marketing effectiveness and features real world examples from Snickers, Warby Parker and Uber Eats. Eat Your Greens Wiemer Snijders, 2018-09-27. How can we sell more to more people and for more money? The marketing world is awash with myths, misconceptions, dubious metrics and tactics that bear little relation to our actual buying behaviour. Marketing Myths [?], 2025-06-16. SNS 2025 300 SNS. China in Australasia James Beattie, Richard Bullen, Maria Galikowski, 2019-04-18. Drawing on expertise in art history, exhibition studies and cultural studies as well as politics and international relations, China in Australasia presents significant new perspectives on the role of art in the cultural diplomacy of the People's Republic of China. The book tells the forgotten story of the loan exchange and gifting of Chinese art museum exhibitions and the use of Chinese arts more broadly in growing diplomatic relations with Australia and New Zealand from 1949 to the present day. Its scope includes pre-modern, modern and contemporary sculpture, painting and peasant art as well as ancient artefacts, performance arts and gardens. In considering the geopolitical connections opened by the arts, this book presents new insights into some of the ways in which China, often in conjunction with local supporters, sought to present itself to the people of Australia and New Zealand. It also considers how, for their part, New Zealanders and Australians worked to expand understandings of their powerful northern neighbour within changing political contexts. The first of its kind, this book length interdisciplinary study of Chinese soft diplomacy in Australasia will be invaluable to students and scholars of Chinese studies, cultural diplomacy, museum studies and art history. Run with Foxes Paul Dervan, 2020-04-07. Paul Dervan has spent 20 years in marketing, working for high profile brands, creating new ones and helping to rescue those that have got in trouble. He was also given the unique opportunity to build a marketing lab where he undertook hundreds of experiments to see what really worked and what didn't. He's been up close with some of the world's finest marketers and seen both successes and failures, sometimes on a colossal scale. Run With Foxes is a blistering must-read collection of real-life stories from this fascinating world, revealing the messy reality of decision making in marketing and the secrets of making better decisions. The fact is, most marketing lessons that get shared come from successful campaigns; marketers are too afraid to be honest about mistakes. But everyone makes mistakes in marketing, and there are hugely valuable and unique lessons to be learned from taking a closer look at failures, big and small. Breaking open marketing triumphs and disasters with brutal honesty, as well as sharing exclusive first-hand interviews with some of the world's most respected marketers, this is the ultimate insider's guide to being a better marketer. Regulation of television advertising Great Britain: Parliament: House of Lords: Select Committee on Communications, 2011-02-17 This report from the Select Committee on Communications calls for a reduction in the time allowed for advertisements on commercial broadcasting channels Existing regulation of the market is no longer relevant in the digital age and doesn t serve the best interests of viewers The Code on Scheduling of Television Advertising should be harmonised to level the playing field between public service and commercial broadcasters when Digital Switchover happens in 2012 It is the Committee s view that a reduction in the quantity of advertising airtime that broadcasters are allowed to sell would greatly improve the viewer experience and would be fairer to the public service broadcasters ITV 1 Channel 4 and Channel 5 who are limited more than all other commercial channels at the moment All channels should be allowed an average of 7 minutes per hour appropriate peak time maximum to be determined after research from Ofcom The Committee has also looked at specific regulations which affect ITV 1 known as the Contract Rights Renewal undertakings These undertakings should be removed as long as they are replaced with binding undertakings from ITV plc to invest an appropriate proportion of any additional revenues from advertising in creating UK originated programming and training The Committee is calling on ITV s bosses to deliver on the commitments they have made to the Committee to increase its investment on quality UK originated programming in return for the removal of CRR and also to invest in training within the industry □□□□□□ ,2007
