The Cell Phone Heather Horst, Daniel Miller, 2020-07-31 Few modern innovations have spread quite so quickly as the cell phone. This technology has transformed communication throughout the world. Mobile telecommunications have had a dramatic effect in many regions but perhaps nowhere more than for low income populations in countries such as Jamaica where in the last few years many people have moved from no phone to cell phone. This book reveals the central role of communication in helping low income households cope with poverty. The book traces the impact of the cell phone from personal issues of loneliness and depression to the global concerns of the modern economy and the transnational family. As the technology of social networking the cell phone has become central to establishing and maintaining relationships in areas from religion to love. The Cell Phone presents the first detailed ethnography of the impact of this new technology through the exploration of the cell phone's role in everyday lives.

Labour Law in an Era of Globalization Joanne Conaghan, Richard Michael Fischl, Karl Klare, 2004 Throughout the industrial world the discipline of labor law has fallen into deep philosophical and policy crisis at the same time as new theoretical approaches make it a field of considerable intellectual ferment. Modern labor law evolved in a symbiotic relationship with a postwar institutional and policy agenda the social economic and political underpinnings of which have gradually eroded in the context of accelerating international economic integration and wage competition. These essays which are the product of a transnational comparative dialog among academics and practitioners in labor law and related legal fields including social security immigration trade and development identify analyze and respond to some of the conceptual and policy challenges posed by globalization.

African Studies Association Annual Meeting. [Program] African Studies Association. Annual Meeting, 2005 Continent, 1924 Gender, Race, and Class in Media Bill Yousman, Lori Bindig Yousman, Gail Dines, Jean McMahon Humez, 2020-07-24 Gender Race and Class in Media provides students a comprehensive and critical introduction to media studies by encouraging them to analyze their own media experiences and interests. The book explores some of the most important forms of today's popular culture including the Internet social media television films music and advertising in three distinct but related areas of investigation the political economy of production textual analysis and audience response. Multidisciplinary issues of power related to gender race and class are integrated into a wide range of articles examining the economic and cultural implications of mass media as institutions. Reflecting the rapid evolution of the field the Sixth Edition includes 18 new readings that enhance the richness sophistication and diversity that characterizes contemporary media scholarship. Included with this title The password protected Instructor Resource Site formally known as SAGE Edge offers access to all text specific resources including a test bank and editable chapter specific PowerPoint slides.

Masonic Voice and Review, 1928 Citizen Participation in Democratic Europe Alberto Alemanno, James Organ, 2021-02-05 As the European Union undergoes a major self proclaimed democratic exercise the Conference on the Future of Europe and approaches Treaty change this volume offers a new model of citizen participation to address Europe's long standing democracy challenge and respond to the aftermath of the COVID 19 pandemic. Proposed are a set of democratic innovations ranging from citizens assemblies to regulatory gaming to citizens initiatives and lobbying which are complementary not antagonistic to existing representative democracy across the European continent. These innovations are emerging bottom up across the continent and getting traction at local national and EU level in a new era powered by technology. This book brings together academics as well as practitioners to give a forward looking holistic view of the realities of EU citizen participation across the spectrum of participatory opportunities. They all converge in arguing that after many years of proven experimentation the EU must institutionalize supranational participative and deliberative democratic channels to complement representative democracy and each other and ultimately improve the effectiveness of EU citizen participation. While this institutional approach will not magically treat the EU democratic malaise it should make the system more intelligible accessible and ultimately responsive to citizen demand without necessarily undertaking Treaty reform. The attempt to harness citizen participation to help address the current EU crisis needs the type of multi faceted approach presented in this book. One that recognises the potential of existing and new democratic mechanisms and also importantly the links between different instruments of citizen participation to improve the overall quality of EU's democratic system.
