Abstract

Two experiments were performed to find the spring constant of a steel spring. The spring constant was determined statically, by measuring its elongation when subjected to loading, and dynamically, by measuring the period of a mass hung from one end and set into vertical oscillation. The resulting values of  $2.94 \pm 0.01$  N/m and  $2.98 \pm 0.02$  N/m, respectively. Our spring's behavior followed Hooke's law to within the limits of accuracy of the two experiments. (76 words)

An Alternate Abstract:

The purpose of this experiment was to measure and compare the spring constant of a steel spring using two different procedures. First we investigated the relationship between the force applied to a spring and the displacement of the spring from its rest length. We hung various masses from the springs, and measured the vertical displacement. We found a spring constant of  $2.94 \pm 0.01$  N/m. Our results confirmed Hooke's Law,  $F_s = -kx$ . In the second procedure, we set the spring into vertical oscillation with a suspended mass and measured the period of oscillation. Using this method, we found a spring constant of  $2.98 \pm 0.02$  N/m. Our results verified that the period of oscillation depended on the effective mass of the spring and the period of oscillation.
