Dear [Recipient's Name],

I am writing this letter to enthusiastically recommend [Candidate's Name] for tenure at [Your Institution]. I have had the privilege of working closely with [Candidate's Name] for the past [Number of Years] years and can attest to their exceptional contributions, unwavering dedication, and immense promise as a faculty member.

In my capacity as [Your Title/Position], I have had numerous opportunities to observe [Candidate's Name]'s growth as an educator and scholar. Their commitment to advancing our institution's mission and vision is evident in their teaching, research, and service activities.

[Provide specific examples and achievements related to the candidate's teaching, research, and service contributions. Include any notable accomplishments, publications, awards, or service initiatives.]

It is not only [Candidate's Name]'s impressive accomplishments but also their collegiality and collaborative spirit that set them apart. They actively engage with colleagues, mentor students, and demonstrate an unwavering commitment to fostering a positive and inclusive academic environment.

In addition to [Candidate's Name]'s professional qualities, their personal character is beyond reproach. They exhibit a strong sense of integrity, empathy, and a genuine concern for the welfare of our academic community. Their ability to balance leadership responsibilities with humility makes them an exceptional colleague and educator.

administrators A practical and comprehensive overview of the process involved in searching for and obtaining an academic position based on the authors experience advising graduate students at the Career Planning and Placement Service U of Pennsylvania Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Teaching Engineering, Second Edition Phillip C. Wankat, Frank S. Oreovicz, 2015-01-15 The majority of professors have never had a formal course in education and the most common method for learning how to teach is on the job training This represents a challenge for disciplines with ever more complex subject matter and a lost opportunity when new active learning approaches to education are yielding dramatic improvements in student learning and retention This book aims to cover all aspects of teaching engineering and other technical subjects It presents both practical matters and educational theories in a format useful for both new and experienced teachers It is organized to start with specific practical teaching applications and then leads to psychological and educational theories The practical orientation section explains how to develop objectives and then use them to enhance student learning and the theoretical orientation section discusses the theoretical basis for learning teaching and its impact on students Written mainly for PhD students and professors in all areas of engineering the book may be used as a text for graduate level classes and professional workshops or by professionals who wish to read it on their own Although the focus is engineering education most of this book will be useful to teachers in other disciplines Teaching is a complex human activity so it is impossible to develop a formula that guarantees it will be excellent However the methods in this book will help all professors become good teachers while spending less time preparing for the classroom This is a new edition of the well received volume published by McGraw Hill in 1993 It includes an entirely revised section on the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology ABET and new sections on the characteristics of great teachers different active learning methods the application of technology in the classroom from clickers to intelligent tutorial systems and how people learn Stories of Mentoring Michelle F. Eble, 2008-10-01 Describes mentoring of teachers and scholars in the field of composition and rhetoric Women and the Practice of Medicine Lucille A. Lester, 2021-06-30 This text offers a new interpretation of the dramatic changes that occurred in women in medicine over the course of the last seventy years starting from the 1950s when women physicians were a curiosity to the present day when their presence is accepted and their achievements are broadly acknowledged In seven chapters arranged by decades this book examines the seminal events that shaped what has been described as the changing face of medicine Using the lived experiences of women physicians featured as vignettes throughout the narrative the book traces the effects of the quota system for admissions second wave feminism and Title IX legislation the restrictions of the glass ceiling and a cascade of equity issues in career advancement and salary to offer a new account of the roles women played in shaping the standards and the contributing to progress in the field of medicine Women faced gender specific challenges to enter train and practice medicine that did not abate as they strove to balance work and family As the book shows such challenges and the attendant institutional responses offered by medical schools and government rulings shaped how women do medicine differently Women and the Practice of Medicine offers a unique interpretation of this history and accounts for the changes in social norms as well as in women s perspectives that have made them an invaluable new normal in the contemporary world of medicine This book fills a gap in the more recent history of women in medicine much of which is written by academic historians or sociologists this book contributes a clinician s on the ground point of view It includes a researched structured historical narrative spanning the last 70 years but it seeks to frame this narrative with the personal stories and accomplishments of women physicians who lived through the time in question The book also provides an overview of how much has changed in the practice of medicine as well as a reminder of what has not changed and what needs to further evolve for women to be equitable partners in medicine as well as other professional disciplines The book concludes with two appendices containing a questionnaire used in interviews of 40 women conducted at the start of the book project and a summary of the qualitative findings from the semi structured interviews
