

Concept Paper: Bullying

The bill, now a law defines acts of bullying in schools and authorizes these institutions to impose sanctions on student bullies. Bullying is the most common form of violence in schools, not only in elementary and secondary schools but also in tertiary level schools may it be state universities, school foundations or private colleges and universities. Students are ridiculed, taunted, teased, mocked and made fun of by fellow students who think or feel that they can get away with such behavior because they are superior, or great than the students they bully.

Schools and its administrators are always in a dilemma as to they would address bullies in the amp's. In previous news, a student from a very prestigious private school was a victim when a father of a classmate brought a gun in school toted it to a student inside the classroom. This was a very controversial issue that may have somehow hastened the passing of the anti-bullying law. A recent news also tackled about bullying in which a 12 year - old victim committed suicide by hanging herself due to depression from being bullied by her classmates.

It is therefore imperative for schools to come up with programs to promote such law and to make students aware of what they could do about the issue. It is the aim of this research to find out how knowledgeable or to determine the General Santos Doctors' Medical School Foundation Incorporated students' level of awareness about this matter and how they could help deter future bullies. Students' level of awareness will best serve as a basis on the development of possible intervention programs for the institution to prevent their students' sense of security.

School

Bullying Phillip Slee, 2016-12-05 To effectively cope with school bullying it is essential to understand the issues underpinning student peer group dynamics in the school classroom and community and this view lies at the heart of the text. While the experience of bullying others or being victimized is identified with an individual or group, the solution lies with the systems, e.g. community, school, classroom, or family, of which the individual is part. Particular emphasis is given to the role of prosocial behavior and a strengths-based perspective in addressing how students cope with school bullying within a systemic context. The text is strongly informed by the author's experience in developing and conducting national and international school-based anti-bullying and mental health interventions. The book advocates a systems-based approach to addressing school bullying, as illustrated with a program developed and evaluated by the author called the P E A C E Pack. A program for reducing bullying in schools. This book translates research into practice with a strong evidence-based application drawing on an extensive data base. Each chapter contains practical information and research on school, classroom, community applications, trends, and issues in the field and practical ideas for implementing anti-bullying measures. The first two sections consider ways to promote positive peer relations in schools and the dynamics of peer groups. Consideration is then given to cyber bullying and to theories explaining violence, aggression, and bullying. Later sections examine the nature and effects of bullying from early childhood through to adolescence on vulnerable groups, including students with special educational needs and disabilities and LGBTQ young people. The book details information for schools and teachers on ways to collect data and information to inform the interventions and policies of their school. School and classroom-based resources for teachers, counsellors, and administrators are identified. With school bullying now a matter of international concern, not only to children, young people, and their caregivers but to schools and teachers at the forefront, this book will be important reading for all students in psychology, education, health, and social welfare, as well as school administrators, teachers, counsellors, and childcare professionals.
