expressing emotions and I understood enough of the meaning by the chuckling and the cooing I was transfixed by it frozen to the wall like a gnarly dead vine But when the talking and laughing stopped my mind launched into orbit The pounding silence was punctuated with the occasional squeals of my wife and her muffled shrieks The further apart these grew the more my head spun and my heart pounded I remembered the milk crate My throat ran dry and my hands shook when I realized what I was about to do what I could not stop myself from doing I dropped my mouth open wide as though that helped me move carefully I positioned the crate below the window like I was placing a bomb and froze when I heard more laughter above my head When it stopped long enough to assure me they were busy again and to rip me apart with the images in my head of what that meant I lifted my feet onto the crate crouching like a toad I raised myself as slow as a plant growing I paused when the top of my head touched the bottom of the windowsill I thought I could hear breathing but it could have been breeze I thought I could hear movement but it could have been leaves If either of them happened to be looking at the window when I raised myself the last couple of inches not only would I be busted but they would be busted too and they would know it she would know that I know Me seeing something I didn't want to see was one thing She seeing me see something would bring the issue to the table I might have been wound up tighter than a winch but a part of my mind stayed in cool calculating mode I would lose a certain advantage if she knew I knew Everything going forward depended on me seeing without being seen since it was already happening I wrapped the tips of my fingers around the edge of the sill quiet as curling smoke My legs shook from being held too long in a half squat I turned my face to stare at the wall an inch away so that when I pressed up I'd already be facing the right way I rose like the morning sun
