Orientalism Versus Occidentalism Laetitia Nanquette, 2017-02-28 This book highlights the role of cultural representations and perceptions such as when Iran is represented in the French media as a rogue state obsessed with its nuclear programme and when France is portrayed in the Iranian media as a decadent and imperialist country Here Laetitia Nanquette examines the functions processes and mechanisms of stereotyping and imagining the other that have pervaded the literary traditions of France and Iran when writing about each other She furthermore analyzes Franco Iranian relations by exploring the literary traditions of this relationship the ways in which these have affected individual authors and how they reflect socio political realities With themes that feed into popular debates about the nature of Orientalism and Occidentalism and how the two interact this book will be vital for researchers of Middle Eastern literature and its relationship with writings from the West as well as those working on the cultures of the Middle East

Beyond Feminism and Islamism Doris H. Gray, 2012-11-08 Are women in North Africa and the Middle East feminist Or is being a Muslim incompatible with feminism Is there such a thing as Islamic feminism Through interviews with Moroccan activists and jurists both male and female and by situating these interviews within their socio political and economic contexts Doris Gray addresses these questions By doing so she attempts to move beyond the simple bifurcation of feminist and Islamist to look at the many facets of internal gender discourse within one Muslim country allowing for a more nuanced understanding of the discussion on women s rights in the Muslim world in general The status and the role of women is one of the most hotly debated topics throughout the Middle East and North Africa and this is particularly visible through this discussion of what it means to engage with and promote feminist thought and actions in the region
