The Politics of Spiritual Work in Christian Movements Aini Linjakumpu, 2025-08-06 This book examines how three conservative Christian movements Jehovah's Witnesses, Conservative Laestadians and the Old Order Amish attribute spiritual meanings to both paid employment and voluntary work and how work functions as a tool of governance within these communities. A central concept developed in this book is spiritual work used to describe forms of labour imbued with religious meaning and purpose. This book offers a detailed analysis of how religious interpretations of work regulate members' lives and sustain internal power dynamics. By tracing both the theological roots and social consequences of these interpretations, the study demonstrates that work is not merely an economic necessity but a central component of the moral and spiritual order within these movements. Framed by perspectives from the study of power and governance, this book identifies three key dimensions through which governance operates via work: shaping individual spirituality, reinforcing communal belonging and cohesion, and regulating the boundary between the religious community and the outside world.

The Routledge History of the First World War Paul R. Bartrop, 2024-08-27 The Routledge History of the First World War is a work which in a single volume covers a range of major themes and issues relating to that conflict. Providing a comprehensive but readily accessible reference work examining the First World War in accordance with a broad range of themes, this book presents the many ways in which study of the First World War can take place and introduces readers to new areas of research often untouched in other studies of the war. With a scholarly Introduction and 60 chapters by specialist authors who come from 14 different countries across four continents, the book is also intended to open lines of further inquiry from its solid base of academic knowledge. The volume demonstrates the war's global and total nature, examining the conflict in all major theatres and through the lens of the key combatants and neutrals. It also fully engages with issues of race, gender, ideology and society during the war. This book will appeal to students of all levels, scholars and general readers alike interested in the First World War from several different perspectives and research areas. The 60 chapters cover topics from numerous angles and provide detailed information about all aspects relating to the First World War. Serving Library

Users from Asia John Hickok, 2019-06-12 Asian populations are among some of the fastest growing cultural groups in the US. While books on serving other target groups in libraries have been published (e.g. disabled, Latino seniors, etc.), few books on serving library users of Asian heritage have been written. Thus, the timely need for this book. Rather than a generalized overview of Asians as a whole, this book has 24 separate chapters, each on 24 specific Asian countries, cultures of East, Southeast and South Asia, with a wealth of resources for understanding, interacting with, and serving library users of each culture. Resources include cultural guides, both print and online, language helps with sample library vocabulary, Asian booksellers, nationwide cultural groups, professional literature and more. Resources and suggestions are given for all three types of libraries: public, school and academic, making this book valuable for all librarians. The demographics of each

Asian culture numbers and distribution plus history of immigration and international student enrollment is also featured As a bonus each chapter spotlights a US public school and academic library providing model outreach to Asian library users Additionally this book provides a detailed description and analysis of libraries in each of the 24 Asian countries The history development facilities conditions technology classification systems and more of public school and academic libraries are all discussed with detailed documentation Country conditions influencing libraries and library use are also described literacy levels reading cultures languages and writing systems educational systems and more Based on the author s 15 years of research and travels to Asia this work is a must have for all librarians      The Creative Classroom Keith

Sawyer,2019-08-09 The Creative Classroom presents an original compelling vision of schools where teaching and learning are centered on creativity Drawing on the latest research as well as his studies of jazz and improvised theater Sawyer describes curricula and classroom practices that will help educators get started with a new style of teaching guided improvisation where students are given freedom to explore within structures provided by the teacher Readers will learn how to improve learning outcomes in all subjects from science and math to history and language arts by helping students master content area standards at the same time as they increase their creative potential This book shows how teachers and school leaders can work together to overcome all too common barriers to creative teaching leadership structure and culture and collaborate to transform schools into creative organizations Book Features Presents a research based approach to teaching and learning for creativity Identifies which learning outcomes support creativity and offers practical advice for how to teach for these outcomes Shows how students learn content area knowledge while also learning to be creative with that knowledge Describes principles and techniques that teachers can use in all subjects Demonstrates that a combination of school structures cultures incentives and leadership are needed to support creative teaching and learning      Water Policy and Governance in Canada Steven Renzetti,Diane P. Dupont,2016-10-31 This book provides an insightful and critical assessment of the state of Canadian water governance and policy It adopts a multidisciplinary variety of perspectives and considers local basin provincial and national scales Canada s leading authorities from the social sciences life and natural sciences address pressing water issues in a non technical language making them accessible to a wide audience Even though Canada is seen as a water rich country with 7% of the world s reliable flow of freshwater and many of the world s largest rivers the country nevertheless faces a number of significant water related challenges stemming in part from supply demand imbalances but also a range of water quality issues Against the backdrop of a water policy landscape that has changed significantly in recent years this book therefore seeks to examine water related issues that are not only important for the future of Canadian water management but also provide insights into transboundary management non market valuation of water decentralized governance methods the growing importance of the role of First Nations peoples and other topics in water management that are vital to many jurisdictions globally The book also presents forward looking approaches such as resilience theory and geomatics to shed light on emerging water issues Researchers students and those directly involved in the management of Canadian waters will find this book a valuable source of insight In addition this book will appeal to policy analysts people concerned about Canadian water resources specifically as well as global water issues

Restoration of Coastal Marine Ecosystems Ronald Osinga, Bernadette Pogoda, Roberto Danovaro, Alison Debney, 2024-09-23 Human health and wellbeing cannot be sustained without proper ecosystem functioning and high biodiversity is essential to maintain such functioning Worldwide unsustainable exploitation of natural resources by a growing human population has imposed serious pressures on ecosystem integrity To change the tide the United Nations declared the current decade as the UN Decade of Ecosystem Restoration with the aim of supporting and scaling up efforts to prevent halt and reverse the degradation of ecosystems worldwide Large scale active ecosystem restoration actions will be needed to achieve these ambitious aims Whereas methodologies for systemic restoration of terrestrial ecosystems have been established marine ecosystem restoration is still a young field of science although rapidly emerging This Research Topic proposal aims to provide a platform for the growing number of marine scientists involved in marine ecosystem restoration The Research Topic will focus on coastal ecosystems such as mangrove forests salt marshes seagrass beds kelp forests shellfish reefs and coral reefs but will also welcome studies on nearshore environments such as shelf seas Mediterranean coralligenous habitats and mesophotic reefs

Teaching Human Rights in Primary Schools Alison E. C. Struthers, 2019-11-07 Teaching Human Rights in Primary Schools delves into the important issue of Human Rights Education HRE implementation exploring the nature and extent of HRE in education policy and practice in English primary schooling and seeking to understand the reasons for deficiencies in practice in this area HRE enables people not only to identify rights violations in their own lives but also equips them with the knowledge values and skills required to accept defend and promote human rights more broadly An awareness of human rights is therefore crucial no matter what a person's age and as such it is vital that information about human rights is included within formal education Beginning with an overview of the relevant international obligations and agreements related to HRE Struthers then demonstrates that these are ostensibly not currently being met in either policy or practice in England The book then draws upon current literature and empirical research with teachers to explore and analyse the barriers to HRE implementation While the book uses the specific context of English primary education it makes broad interdisciplinary recommendations concerning how the provision of HRE could be improved which will be relevant to other countries instituting programmes of HRE or values and citizenship education Interdisciplinary in nature and addressing HRE at both the international and domestic levels this book will be of great interest to scholars researchers and postgraduate students in both education and law It will be of particular interest to those engaged in the study of human rights children's rights and education law as well as those interested in curriculum policy and development teaching methodologies and the sociology of education It should also be essential reading for teacher educators teachers and policymakers
