

INTERVIEW

The interview was interesting as the interviewer asked me to describe myself. I acknowledged that currently, I am a junior at UNLV having finished my two-month internship Cowen Plaza in Yangzhou where I had volunteered at the front desk. During this internship, I managed to gather numerous practical skills from the different people I met at the marketing and sales departments. Moreover, I am undertaking a course in Hospitality Management.

I expressed my desire to get deeper in my career department, and was greatly looking forward to this opportunity. The interviewer then inquired about my interest in working at Starwood Hotel. I acknowledged that the hotel was my favorite hotel. In addition, its merger with Marriott would pose numerous challenges to it, a task that attracted me more to it as I am willing to grow with the chain to its potential.

Furthermore, the interviewer was interested to know what my long-term goals. I explained that if I were to get the job, I would solely focus on coming up to speed in my new position and setting out to learn more about this sector. I then moved on to my long-term goal, which was to advance through the ranks with experience and hard work to reach high management level. Notably, I hopefully wish to work as a VIP Server for the better part of my career.

Additionally, the interviewer asked me to describe what I thought my areas of strength and weakness were. I knew I had to present my strengths in way that relates to the job description and turn my weakness into a positive answer. I explained that I was a quick learner and adaptable, evident from my transition from China to USA. Moreover, my high GPA test results earned me a

Introduction to Human-Computer Interaction Kasper Hornbæk, Per Ola Kristensson, Antti Oulasvirta, 2025-06-06. This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 International licence. It is free to read on the Oxford Academic platform and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations. Aimed at undergraduate students in computer science design and engineering programs and master students in dedicated programs, this is the first comprehensive textbook for students of human computer interaction. While HCI is primarily a research-driven field, the book focuses not only on scientific principles of interaction but also on the very concrete goal of designing better computing systems. The book revises and synthesizes topics that have been previously scattered across multiple books and papers, including design, engineering, empirical methods, and technology. Although it covers emerging topics like VR and AI, the book places its emphasis on the more time-enduring principles and methods. The book is open access and comes with associated materials for teachers and students available on the book's companion website. News and Newswriting

Robert Wilson Neal, 1925. The Practices and Procedures of the Investigating Services of the Department of Defense and the Military Departments Concerning the Investigations Into the Deaths of Military Personnel Which May Have Resulted from Self-Inflicted Causes Strom Thurmond, 1998-08. Interviews as Activated Storytelling

Amir B. Marvasti, Jaber F. Gubrium, 2025-05-30. Challenging the sanitized view of participants in standardized surveys, Interviews as Activated Storytelling contends that interviewing is a meaning-making process producing useful but context-sensitive knowledge. Through a series of case studies, the book illustrates that participants are not simply there for asking and answering but inquire and respond in terms of attendant interests and social worlds. Interview interaction and interpretation must take these into account against standardization. In two parts, chapters explore how conditions of the interview process, contexts, and conceptions of interview participants' subjectivities narratively inform and shape activated interviewing and its results. Together with the previously published book Crafting Ethnographic Fieldwork: Sites, Selves, and Social Worlds, insights into the full range of procedural issues in qualitative research are offered. The Practices and Procedures of the Investigative Services of the Department of Defense and the Military Departments Concerning the Investigations Into the Deaths of Military Personnel which May Have Resulted from Self-inflicted Causes United States.
