growth and movement will be largely replaced by a new series of European test methods, which have been published as EN ISO 10770. Methods of test for mortar for measuring its tensile strength (EN ISO 10137) has been replaced by a single test (described to cover a broad range of physical tests methods (which have not been superseded) by EN ISO 10136 and chemical test methods currently contained under test 2 of EN ISO 10137, however all references to dried-matter loss have been deleted). A new series of test methods for ground material tests have been published as EN ISO 10136). Therefore from February 2005 there has been a complete separation of fresh product and testing standards (for mortar and ground material).
