learning pedagogy and innovative technologies like open educational resources and blended learning models. It specifically talks about the future of technology enhanced learning and how advanced technology and government policies together are trying to impact learning outcomes globally. Nowadays in a flexible learning environment, technology plays a significant role in higher education systems. Both educators and students are playing prominent roles in its successful implementation. Advanced learning pedagogy by using technology has not only changed teaching procedures but has also evolved the relationship among multiple stakeholders. The content of the book is neatly segregated into four parts. Part I covers the concept and evolution of digital learning and education technology. This part examines the role of technology in higher education and proposes a toolkit for personalized learning and continuous assessment. Parts II and III creatively represent the innovative teaching techniques and learning models under advanced learning pedagogy. Chapters under parts II and III are specially designed to present the more simplistic view of various technology based advanced learning models and resources like flipped classes, gaming designs for e-learning, etc. Part III of the book also extensively covers various case studies, instructor's stories of technology enabled learning experiences. Part IV focuses on the evaluation of advanced learning pedagogy and tools. It also covers the future of information in learning like formative analytics and improved learning outcomes using technology and government initiatives in the form of various future oriented education policies like the Digital Action Education Plan 2021-2027. The wide ranging content also covers the challenges of implementation of advanced learning pedagogy and offers recommendations to overcome such challenges. The book will grab the attention of the modern IT enabled instructor's fraternity and students and researchers in the area of technology and education. The book can be further used by policymakers and educational technology startups to formulate and design technology based higher education teaching policies and procedures which are indeed helpful in measuring learning outcomes.

Facilitating Access to the Web of Data David Stuart, 2011. The web is changing from a web of documents to a web of data from a web that can be read by humans to one that can be read by machines. These are fascinating advances for anyone interested in the changing nature of the web and the way we access information. The technologies being forged in this new landscape will provide a host of opportunities for library and information professionals to shape the information landscape of the future. This book is a wide ranging introduction to the emerging web of data and the semantic web, exploring technologies including APIs, microformats and linked data. Its topical commentary and practical examples drawn from the international LIS community explore how information professionals can harness the power of this new phenomenon to inform strategy and become facilitators of access to data. Key topics covered include open data, a semantic web, one that's meaningful to computers, data silos, the semantic web, the RDF vision, embedded semantics, the library and the web of data, the future of the librarian and the web of data. Readership: This is essential reading for library and information professionals and for LIS students and researchers. It will also be of value to information architects, web developers and all those interested in making sure that people have access
