

- A. assertive.
- B. neutral and objective.
- C. authoritative.
- D. unbelieving.

(1)

B – neutral and objective. ✓

1.6 Refer to paragraph 11.

The writer says that it is usually 'the soles (of shoes) that usually go first.'

Use a homophone for soles in a sentence of your own in which the different meaning is clear.

(2)

Man is a combination of body and soul. ✓ ✓

1.7 Refer to paragraphs 11 and 12.

The expression 'down at heel' relates to shoes in the sense that you are so poor that you have walked the heels of yours off.

Provide the opposite of this expression and its meaning.

'To be well-heeled' ✓ – You are wealthy and enjoy a high position in society. ✓

1.8 Refer to paragraph 1.

Is this paragraph an effective introduction to the text? Substantiate your view with close reference to the text.

(3)

Yes.

In paragraph 1 the writer clearly hammers out the topic of his text: ✓

he is confused about the rationale behind the origin of some expressions in English.

The writer clearly mentions these by name:

- Why is truth naked?
- Why do we assess people's wealth by referring to their heels?
- Why are whistles any cleaner than flutes or trumpets?
- The writer discusses all of the above expressions in the text. ✓

1.9 Refer to paragraph 13.

Is paragraph 13 an effective conclusion to the text? Substantiate your view.

(3)

Yes. The writer still has doubts ✓ about the reasons for the origin of these expressions, they could be 'fanciful' – he is right back where he started. ✓ He ends his analysis on a humorous note: his research is the 'naked truth.' ✓

OR

No. The writer's research has proved inconclusive. ✓ He is not certain that any resource studied is authentic. ✓

The inconclusive nature of the conclusion, defeats the purpose of his article. ✓

Martin Wolff,2011-07-12 Obviously you are not chanting the exultations of China which many of my country people are used to listening to A Chinese scholar recognizes that this book is not a further attempt to curry favor with China by tickling its leaders ears This book examines what is right and the truth about what is wrong with English language education in Chinese colleges and universities As our Chinese colleague further states Most Chinese are learning English like one learning swimming ashore We have been writing about these shortcomings for ten years It arises because administrators posted to their positions due to party affiliation and good standing are basically ignorant of administration and educational matters The VIPs of EEC believe that they know while they don t what are under their supervision the professionals of EEC believe that what they are doing academically is helpful while it s not The two types are making the common non professional people believe that they are knowingly reliable while they are not The educated as well as the illiterate do not know what to do and what not to do what is correct and what is wrong what is worthy and what is not etc The weakness from the historical perspective is also a consequence of modern Chinese history whose knowledge most Chinese people are poor at but reluctant to admit This book could not be published within China due to its truthfulness Interpreting and Using Statistics in Psychological Research Andrew N. Christopher,2016-08-30 This practical conceptual introduction to statistical analysis by award winning teacher Andrew N Christopher uses published research with inherently interesting social sciences content to help students make clear connections between statistics and real life Using a friendly easy to understand presentation Christopher walks students through the hand calculations of key statistical tools and provides step by step instructions on how to run the appropriate analyses for each type of statistic in SPSS and how to interpret the output With the premise that a conceptual grasp of statistical techniques is critical for students to truly understand why they are doing what they are doing the author avoids overly formulaic jargon and instead focuses on when and how to use statistical techniques appropriately
