Medians and Altitudes of a Triangle

*What you should learnGOAL 1 Use properties of medians of a triangle.GOAL 2 Use properties of altitudes of a triangle.Why you should learn it

▼ To solve real-life problems, such as locating points in a triangle used to measure a person's heart fitness as in Exs. 30–33.

REAL LIFE

GOAL 1 USING MEDIANS OF A TRIANGLE

In Lesson 5.2, you studied two special types of segments of a triangle: perpendicular bisectors of the sides and angle bisectors. In this lesson, you will study two other special types of segments of a triangle: medians and altitudes.

A median of a triangle is a segment whose endpoints are a vertex of the triangle and the midpoint of the opposite side. For instance, in $\triangle ABC$ shown at the right, D is the midpoint of side BC . So, AD is a median of the triangle.

The three medians of a triangle are concurrent. The point of concurrency is called the centroid of the triangle. The centroid, labeled P in the diagrams below, is always inside the triangle.

The medians of a triangle have a special concurrency property, as described in Theorem 5.7. Exercises 13–16 ask you to use paper folding to demonstrate the relationships in this theorem. A proof appears on pages 836–837.

THEOREMTHEOREM 5.7 Concurrency of Medians of a Triangle

The medians of a triangle intersect at a point that is two thirds of the distance from each vertex to the midpoint of the opposite side.

If P is the centroid of $\triangle ABC$, then
 $AP = \frac{2}{3}AD$, $BP = \frac{2}{3}BF$, and $CP = \frac{2}{3}CE$.

The centroid of a triangle can be used as its balancing point, as shown on the next page.
