Logo! Uwe Graune, Mike Thielert, Ludwig Wenzl, 2009-03-18 With LOGO a wide range of control tasks can be implemented easily and flexibly from applications in building and installation technology to tasks in control cabinet construction and in mechanical and instrument engineering Distributed local control of machines and processes is possible by connecting up a communication module such as AS Interface Many switching devices can be replaced with the eight basic and 28 special functions in the logic module for Micro Automation This practical book describes in a lively manner how programs are developed and hardware is chosen It explains the standard situations of control technology on the basis of a guide but also with many practical project tasks From the quick start to program simulations the reader is given comprehensive training on the different basic variants and expansion modules allowing very flexible and precise adjustment to special tasks The book includes a CD containing a demo version of LOGO Soft Comfort the examples described in the book and the LOGO manual in different languages CNC Programming Handbook Peter Smid, 2003 Comes with a CD ROM packed with a variety of problem solving projects

Programming for Software Sharing D.T. Muxworthy, 2012-12-06 Most computer users are familiar with the problems of sharing software with others and the transfer of programs from one computing environment to another Software represents an ever increasing proportion of the cost of computing and these costs tend to nullify all the economic advantages flowing from the wider availability of cheap hardware Years ago it was hoped that the widespread use of high level programming languages would help in alleviating the problems of software production by increasing productivity and by making it simpler for users with similar problems to be able to use the same programs possibly on different types of machines It is a common experience that in practice this simple optimism has proved to be unfounded It was these considerations which led us in 1979 to organize a two week course on Programming for Software Sharing at the European Community Joint Research Centre Ispra Establishment Italy forming part of the regular series of Ispra Courses With prominent invited lecturers local contributions and through discussion sessions we examined with an audience from many countries the problems involved in the sharing and transfer of software as well as suggesting ways of overcoming them In our local environment we are faced daily with three problems both from engagements in software exchange in the scientific technical field on a Europe wide or world wide basis and from work with programming techniques and contributions to the international standardization process POSIX Programmers Guide Donald
