criminal justice health care and education Conducting Educational Needs Assessments D.L. Stufflebeam, Charles H. McCormick, Robert O. Brinkerhoff, Cheryl O. Nelson, 2012-12-06

What goals should be addressed by educational programs
What priorities should be assigned to the different goals
What funds should be allocated to each goal
How can quality services be maintained with declining school enrollments and shrinking revenues
What programs could be cut if necessary
The ebb and flow of the student population the changing needs of our society and the fluctuation of resources constantly impinge on the education system
Educators must deal with students communities and social institutions that are dynamic resulting in changing needs
It is in the context of attempting to be responsive to these changes and to the many wishes and needs that schools are asked to address that needs assessment can be useful
Needs assessment is a process that helps one to identify and examine both values and information
It provides direction for making decisions about programs and resources
It can include such relatively objective procedures as the statistical description and analysis of standardized test data and such subjective procedures as public testimony and values clarification activities
Needs assessment can be a part of community relations facilities planning and consolidation program development and evaluation and resource allocation
Needs assessment thus addresses a broad array of purposes and requires that many different kinds of procedures be available for gathering and analyzing information
This book was written with this wide variation of practices in mind
