U. Heathcote, 2002 Perhaps everything about the Internet leaves you feeling confused and puzzled or maybe you've seen it briefly and need more information. There has never been a better time to start. Whether you want to look up train times, think up questions for a trivia quiz, or e-mail your cousins in Australia, this book takes you through it in simple, straightforward English. Internet Right from the Start is a useful guide for 16-18 year olds on introductory ICT courses and adults either at work attending evening class or learning on a home PC. This book develops ICT skills starting from the very basics through to an intermediate level. You will learn how to look up and search for information on the Internet, use maps sites to get directions if you are going somewhere unfamiliar, download pictures, music, and software, shop for groceries, CDs, or even a house online, e-mail documents and photos across the world for the cost of a local phone call, chat with friends and colleagues online, save text and graphics.

Computers Larry E. Long, Nancy Long, 2002 This work is an introductory course in computers and information technology or in computer competency often offered in Business, CIS, or Computer Science. Designed to aid the competency needs of students, this text supplements package provides an overview of computing concepts and IT applications all in a format that allows instructors the flexibility to meet their course's education objectives. It aims to strike a balance between efficiency of presentation and content that holds the student's interest and invites learning. Only topics critical to general information technology competency are covered in order to provide the breadth of topics necessary to the understanding that is applicable today and in the future. The text includes an extended presentation of ethics in IT and explores IT laboratories.

Cars Anne Flounders, 2013-08-01 Cars are everywhere but how much do we really know about how they work? Readers learn more about not just the family car but also about the thrill rides of sports cars and race cars. Full color photographs and fun facts enhance accessible yet exciting information about the many different vehicles we see on the roads and on the racetrack today. Readers discover the differences between a sedan and a coupe, the different boxes that make up cars, and much more. They're shown step by step how to draw their own car and even how to write a report on what they've learned. A quiz at the end of the book will test readers on their newfound automobile knowledge. High interest topic attracts reluctant readers. Reading level appropriate for many ages. Full color photographs. Table of contents, glossary, and index guide readers through each book. Suggested books and websites provide additional learning opportunities.

Cars Robert Green, 2008-01-01 You may have traveled thousands of miles in your family's car. Did you know that some parts of that car might have traveled halfway around the world before the car ended up in your family's garage? Look inside to find out more about how cars are manufactured by companies in many different countries.

Environmental Connections Kathleen Bajorek DeBettencourt, 2000 A guide intended to help educators and students find resources on environmental topics that will enable them to examine issues in greater depth than typical textbooks allow. Chapters are divided by subject matter: water, biodiversity, air quality, global climate change, energy, forests, food and agriculture, soils, mineral resources, population studies, waste management, toxicology, and risk and environmental decision making. Guide appears to be most helpful for teachers in upper grade levels.

99 Jumpstarts for Kids Peggy Whitley, Susan Williams Goodwin, 2003-09-30 Similar to the previous 99 Jumpstarts to Research but designed for younger students this book helps teachers and librarians to teach basic research and information literacy skills to children To help them master the research process and narrow the limitless array of sources available on commonly researched topics in elementary and middle schools students are taught a basic note taking process and given specific source ideas and subject headings for each topic discussed This book will be an invaluable tool to help school librarians and teachers broach the difficult task of beginning to teach the research process Grades 3-8

Gaming Hacks Simon Carless, 2004 Aimed at avid and or highly skilled video gamers Gaming Hacks offers a guide to pushing the limits of video game software and hardware using the creative exploits of the gaming gurus The Future of Post-Human Transportation Peter Baofu, 2013-01-03 Can transportation really have such a destructive impact on society that as Jay Holtz Kay 1998 once forcefully wrote with the automobile industry as an example that the modern consequences of heavy automotive use contribute to the use of non renewable fuels a dramatic increase in the rate of accidental death social isolation the disconnection of community the rise in obesity the generation of air and noise pollution urban sprawl and urban decay WK 2012 This negative expectation from transportation with the automobile industry as an example here can be contrasted with an opposing positive expectation in the old glory days when as Skip McGoun 2012 thus reminded us we have sung songs about the glory and wonder that surrounds the very concept of the car. Examples of this range from the 1909 tune In My Merry Oldsmobile to what is considered to be the first rock and roll song Rocket 88 in 1949. Motion pictures have portrayed expensive sleek sports cars associated with wealth and success. One commercial described Hell as being a place where a teenager would have to drive a minivan. Contrary to these opposing expectations and other views as will be discussed in the book, transportation in relation to both networks and operations is neither possible or impossible nor desirable or undesirable to the extent that the respective ideologues on different sides would like us to believe. This challenge to the opposing expectations from transportation does not mean that transportation is useless or that those interdisciplinary fields related to transportation studies like urban planning, environmental sustainability, migration, tourism, transport economics, traffic engineering, transportation technology, energy efficiency, the tragedy of the commons, and so on are unimportant. Needless to say, neither of these extreme views is reasonable. Rather, this book offers an alternative, better way to understand the future of transportation, especially in the dialectic context of networks and operations, while learning from different approaches in the literature but without favoring any one of them or integrating them since they are not necessarily compatible with each other. More specifically, this book offers a new theory that is the panoramic theory of transportation to go beyond the existing approaches in a novel way. If successful, this seminal project is to fundamentally change the way that we think about transportation in relation to networks and operations from the combined perspectives of the mind, nature, society, and culture, with enormous implications for the human future and what the author originally called its post-human fate.

Breakthroughs in Science and Technology Brian Williams, 2015-01-01. This book looks back at the history of the automobile.

99 Jumpstarts for Kids' Science Research Peggy Whitley, Susan Williams Goodwin, 2005-12-30. This third entry in the Jumpstarts series focuses on Science topics for upper elementary and middle school students. Maintaining the 99 Jumpstarts format of the two previous books, 99 Jumpstarts for Kids' Science Research is divided into ten broad topical sections. Each topic is arranged in alphabetical order under its section. Topics include Body Parts, Energy, Animals, Heavens, Weather, Matter, Medicine, Technology, Environment, and Geology. This pathfinder approach aides students in the research process, helping them define important terms, offer beginning questions to help narrow their topic, furnish source ideas, and some fun activities to explore each topic. Grades 4-8.

Inventors and Inventions Doris Simonis, 2007-09. From air conditioners to MRI scanners and from bicycles to frozen foods, modern life would be unimaginable without the work of inventors. Unlike other resources on inventions, Inventors and Inventions surprises readers with its wide-ranging exploration of inventors of the past and present, including the creators of Kevlar, Coca-Cola, eBay, and the Global Positioning System.

Understanding Chemistry through Cars Geoffrey M. Bowers, Ruth A. Bowers, 2014-11-03. As the car anticipates its dance around the racetrack, the engine growls and pops, and all senses become immersed in the smell of exhaust vapors and the sounds of raw speed and excitement. As it turns out, these also are the sights, sounds, and smells of chemistry. The car is a great example of an everyday device with an abundance of chemistry hidi      Who Invented the Motor Car? Brian Williams,2015-01-01 Written in British English Who Invented the Motor Car looks back at the history of the car a machine that we could not imagine living without today      A Conducir!
