Isizulu Past Memo Paper :

Journal of Natal and Zulu History, 2004      The challenges of democratic transition in South Africa Simon Bekker, 1995-01-02 A preliminary version of this paper was presented at the Summer School on Problems of Transition to Democracy in Africa organized by the Centro de Estudos Africanos for AEGIS the European network of African studies at the Convento da Arr bida near Lisbon September 10th to 23rd 1995 The Summer School was sponsored by the European Community D G VIII the Gulbenkian and Luso American Foundation The Junta Nacional de Investiga o Cient fica Portuguese agency for science and technology and the Instituto da Coopera o Portuguesa Portuguese agency for development cooperation      African Perspectives of King Dingane kaSenzangakhona Sifiso Mxolisi Ndlovu, 2017-08-06 This book examines the active role played by Africans in the pre colonial production of historical knowledge in South Africa focusing on perspectives of the second king of amaZulu King Dingane It draws upon a wealth of oral traditions izibongo and the work of public intellectuals such as Magolwane kaMkhathini Jiyane and Mshongweni to present African perspectives of King Dingane as multifaceted and in some cases constructed according to socio political formations and aimed at particular audiences By bringing African perspectives to the fore this innovative historiography centralizes indigenous African languages in the production of historical knowledge      The Politics of Heritage in Africa Derek R. Peterson, Kodzo Gavua, Ciraj Rassool, 2015-03-02 Heritage work has had a uniquely wide currency in Africa s politics Secure within the pages of books encoded in legal statutes encased in glass display cases and enacted in the panoply of court ritual the artefacts produced by the heritage domain have become a resource for government administration a library for traditionalists and a marketable source of value for cultural entrepreneurs The Politics of Heritage in Africa draws together disparate fields of study history archaeology linguistics the performing arts and cinema to show how the lifeways of the past were made into capital a store of authentic knowledge that political and cultural entrepreneurs could draw from This book shows African heritage to be a mode of political organisation a means by which the relics of the past are shored up reconstructed and revalued as commodities as tradition as morality or as patrimony      Oral history in South Africa Sekgothe Mokgoatšana, 2025-05-06 Colonial and apartheid era historical narratives in South Africa often disregard oral testimonies leaving significant gaps in understanding the country s rich and complex past This scholarly book explores the methodologies and ethics of oral history to address these omissions and to elevate oral testimonies as vital tools in historical scholarship This book brings together ten chapters authored by leading academics and researchers It critically examines how oral history methodologies can be contextualised within South Africa s diverse and multifaceted society Rather than focusing on Eurocentric approaches it emphasises the need to rethink the ethics and practices of oral history from an Afrocentric perspective Through its transdisciplinary and interdisciplinary lens spanning history indigenous knowledge studies museum and archival studies and folklore this book advocates for the recognition of interviewees as knowledge holders fostering meaningful exchanges rather than mere knowledge extraction. The authors emphasise the need to protect and expand oral history archives ensuring the representation of marginalised voices and redressing past injustices. With original research, this volume sheds light on the transformative potential of oral history in South Africa, offering new arguments and perspectives. It aims to inspire scholars, researchers, and specialists to rethink conventional practices and to bridge the divide between written and oral histories. This is essential literature for scholars and practitioners in history, oral history, theology, museum studies, and related fields, as it reimagines the role of oral testimonies in producing inclusive and credible historical narratives.

The People's Paper Peter Limb, 2012-09-01. This much-awaited volume uncovers the long-lost pages of the major African multilingual newspaper Abantu Batho. Founded in 1912 by the African National Congress (ANC) convenor Pixley Seme with assistance from the Swazi Queen, it was published up until 1931, attracting the cream of African politicians, journalists, and poets. Mqhayi, Nontsisi Mkgwetha, and Grendon. In its pages, burning issues of the day were articulated alongside cultural byways. The People's Paper, comprising both essays and an anthology, explores the complex movements and individuals that emerged in the almost twenty years of its publication. The essays contribute rich new material to provide clearer insights into South African politics and intellectual life. The anthology unveils a judicious selection of never-before-published columns from the paper, spanning every year of its life and drawn from repositories on three continents. Abantu Batho had a regional and international focus, and by examining all these dynamics across boundaries and disciplines, The People's Paper transcends established historiographical frontiers to fill a lacuna that scholars have long lamented.

Landscape of Memory Sabine Marschall, 2009-12-14. Under the aegis of the post-apartheid government, much emphasis has been placed on the transformation and democratisation of the heritage sector in South Africa since 1994. The emergent new landscape of memory relies heavily on commemorative monuments, memorials, and statues aimed at reconciliation, nation-building, and the creation of a shared public history. But not everyone identifies with these new symbolic markers and their associated interpretation of the past. Drawing on a number of theoretical perspectives, this book critically investigates the flourishing monument phenomenon in South Africa, the political discourses that fuel it, its impact on identity formation, its potential benefits, and most importantly, its ambivalences and contradictions.

Radio Soundings Elizabeth Gunner, 2019-01-31. Maps an apartheid-era Zulu Radio station as it grew to become one of the largest stations in Africa, countering censorship and propaganda.

Radio Soundings Liz Gunner, 2019-01-31. Zulu Radio in South Africa is one of the most far-reaching and influential media in the region, currently attracting around 6.67 million listeners daily. While the public and political role of radio is well established, what is less understood is how it has shaped culture by allowing listeners to negotiate modern identities and fast-changing lifestyles. Liz Gunner explores how understandings of the self, family, and social roles were shaped through this medium of voice and mediated sound. Radio was the unseen literature of the auditory, the drama of the airwaves, and thus became a conduit for many talents squeezed aside by apartheid repression. Besides Winnie Mahlangu and K.E. Masinga, among other talents, the exiles Lewis Nkosi and Bloke Modisane made a network of identities and conversations which stretched from the heart of Harlem to the American South drawing together the threads of activism and creativity from both Black America and the African continent at a critical moment of late empire

The Way Home: Memories of a South African in Exile Morley Z. Nkosi, This book records the years of Morley Nkosi's exile from Apartheid South Africa most of which he spent as an academic in the United States It is also the story of his life until that forced departure chronicling the trials joys and hopes of a young man born and raised in colonial and Apartheid South Africa In these pages he looks back at his upbringing schooling early employment and exposure to the Pan Africanist ideology that led to his political awakening and ultimately to his activism and exile It is hoped that this work will add a new and illuminating dimension to the literature of Apartheid era exile a literature which is thinner in certain respects than it ought to be considering the complexity of the exile experience and the role that those outside the country played in defeating the Nationalist regime and the forces that supported and promoted it The Way Home adds a vital part of the literature on the lived experiences of formerly exiled South Africans yet immensely valuable to those who waged the struggle on the home front as well It is a must read for the old young and hopefully those yet to be born Dr Mokubung Nkomo

Intermediaries, Interpreters, and Clerks Benjamin N. Lawrance, Emily Lynn Osborn, Richard L. Roberts, 2006 Publisher description

Holding Their Ground, 1989 Blood from Your Children Benedict Carton, 2000 The young black activists whose rejection of their parents complacency led to the 1976 Soweto uprising and the eventual demise of apartheid are part of a long tradition of generational conflict in South Africa In Blood from Your Children Benedict Carton traces this intense challenge to an extraordinary and pivotal episode a century ago that bitterly divided families along generational lines Facing a series of ecological disasters that crippled agriculture in the 1890s African youths in colonial Natal and Zululand perceived their fathers struggle to meet increased colonial demands as an act of betrayal Young people engaged more frequently in premarital sex while young men sparked widespread gang fights and young women rejected traditional filial and marital obligations In 1906 after the imposition of an onerous head tax on young men this domestic turmoil exploded into an armed uprising known as Bambatha's Rebellion The young men sought revenge by attacking both the African patriarchs whose apparent accommodation they considered traitorous and the colonial troops dispatched to quell the violence After the Natal forces crushed the insurrection some captured rebels faced trial for treason under martial law Often their fathers testified against them While the military intervention eventually caused many more African youths to seek work in the mines thus defusing generational turmoil others moved to industrial centers in the wake of the uprising These young people formed the vanguard of insurgent political groups that continue to play an important role in South African urban life Through his lively and thorough presentation of the forces at work in Bambatha's Rebellion Benedict Carton brings a fresh understanding to the tragic role of defiant youth and generational rivalry in African resistance

Focus, 2001 The People's Zion Joel Cabrita, 2018-06-11 Joel Cabrita tells the story of Zionism which began in a utopian community near Chicago in 1900 Its faith healing spiritualism uplifting pan racialism and missionary zeal resonated with marginalized urban working class whites and blacks in both the United States and Southern Africa Today Zionism is Southern Africa s largest religious movement      The Pedagogy of Action Nesha Z. Haniff,2022-11-24 This is the story of teaching consciousness as a requirement for transformations in social justice In artful narrative Nesha Haniff traces her own conscientization as a colonized child in Guyana exploring the cultural and intellectual forces that shape the creation of the Pedagogy of Action Drawing from Paulo Freire and Ela Bhatt participants in POA teach an oral HIV education module to marginalized communities in the USA South Africa and the Caribbean as the nexus for dismantling traditional pedagogies of race gender service and American hegemony The many challenges of institutional and cultural obstacles mainly those that excluded poor and black students from overseas travel required innovation and persistence The book features essays written by POA students and South African participants reflecting on their own transformations These essayists are among the hundreds of participants who over 15 years in the practice of radical love grew the Pedagogy of Action Winner of the 2023 IARSLCE Publication of the Year Award      Annals of Brattleboro, 1681-1895 Mary Rogers Cabot,1922      Choice ,1999

Posthumanism and Literacy Education Candace Kuby,Karen Spector,Jaye Johnson Thiel,2018-07-16 Covering key terms and concepts in the emerging field of posthumanism and literacy education this volume investigates posthumanism not as a lofty theory but as a materialized way of knowing becoming doing the world The contributors explore the ways that posthumanism helps educators better understand how students families and communities come to know become do literacies with other humans and nonhumans Illustrative examples show how posthumanist theories are put to work in and out of school spaces as pedagogies and methodologies in literacy education With contributions from a range of scholars from emerging to established and from both U S and international settings the volume covers literacy practices from pre K to adult literacy across various contexts Chapter authors not only wrestle with methodological tensions in doing posthumanist research but also situate it within pedagogies of teaching literacies Inviting readers to pause slow down and consider posthumanist ways of thinking about agency intra activity subjectivity and affect this book explores and experiments with new ways of seeing understanding and defining literacies and allows readers to experience and intra act with the book in ways more traditional re presentations do not      The Road to Democracy in South Africa: 1970-1980 South African Democracy Education Trust,2004 v 3 The third volume in the series examines the role of anti apartheid movements around the world The global anti apartheid movement was very successful in creating awareness of the liberation struggle in South Africa and in contributing to the downfall of the apartheid government This volume in 2 parts brings together analyses which in the main are written by activist scholars with deep roots in the movements and organizations they are writing about
