Christology in Dialogue with Muslims I. Mark Beaumont, 2011-09-01 This book analyzes Christian presentations of Christ for Muslims in the most creative period of Christian Muslim dialogue the first half of the ninth and the second half of the twentieth century In these two historical moments Christians made a serious effort to present their faith in Christ in terms that take into account Muslim perceptions of him with a view to bridging the gap between Muslim and Christian convictions produced by Muslim rejection of Christ's divine sonship and the death of Christ by crucifixion A comparative study is made of the contributions of three apologists from the early ninth century Abu Qurra Abu Ra ita and Ammar al Basri and three twentieth century apologists Kenneth Cragg John Hick and Hans Kung in order to seek a model for dialogue on Christology between Christians and Muslims in the twenty first century

Historical Dictionary of Sufism John Renard,2015-11-19 The most broadly accepted explanation of Sufism i the etymological derivation of the term from the Arabic for wool of associating practitioners with a preference for poor rough clothing This explanation clearly identifies Sufism with ascetical practice and the importance of manifesting spiritual poverty through material poverty In fact some of the earliest Western descriptions of individuals now widely associated with the larger phenomenon of Sufism identified them with the Arabic term faqir mendicant or its most common Persian equivalent darwish Sufism as presented here embraces a host of features including the ritual institutional psychological hermeneutical artistic literary ethical and epistemological This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Sufism contains a chronology an introduction a glossary and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 1 000 cross referenced entries on important personalities major historical figures and movements practices economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Sufism

Doctrinal Instruction in Early Islam Maher Jarrar,Sebastian Günther,2020-05-06 This pioneering study casts important new light on key issues in the development of dogmatic instruction in early Islam as it examines the creed written by the Basran and Baghdadi Sunni preacher Ghul m Khal l d 275 888 It includes a critical edition of the Arabic text and an English translation of what appears to be one of the earliest statements of religious beliefs in Islam In particular this book argues convincingly that this influential text was authored by the ninth century Ghul m Khal l rather than the Hanbali preacher of Baghdad al Barbah r a claim repeatedly made by modern scholars both Western and Eastern The present publication broaches multi layered themes with the aim of specifying the parameters of this Muslim Creed in terms of the composite relationship between its content and its origin In addition it tackles the important question of what may have led modern Salafis to embrace the doctrinal positions of this particular statement of belief and practice and perhaps more importantly to pursue its institutionalization as a religious orthodoxy

Islam in Everyday Arabic Speech M. Piamenta,2023-11-27

Let there be no Compulsion in Religion (Sura 2:256) Christine Schirrmacher,2016-02-04 In Christine Schirrmacher s postdoctoral thesis for the first time one finds reviews of original voices coming from Islamic theology on the topic of religious freedom and apostasy Arabic English French and Urdu texts have been translated and analyzed and thus made accessible There are basically three positions which are defended on falling away from the Islamic faith Complete advocacy of religious freedom the complete denial of religious freedom with a call for the immediate application of the death penalty for apostates and the centrist position The centrist position however which allows inner freedom of thought and warns against premature persecution calls for the death penalty in the case of open apostasy e g in the case of conversion to another faith Within established Islamic theology the latter approach is nowadays the most frequent point of view found These three main positions on apostasy are introduced in this postdoctoral thesis by means of the publications of three influential 20th century theologians Yusuf al Qaradawi b 1926 Abdullah Saeed b 1960 and Abu l A la Maududi 1903 1979 They all have followings of many millions of people and have political influence at their disposal The study explains why in many Muslim majority countries there is still today only very limited or sometimes no freedom of religion in the sense of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights adopted by the United Nations in 1948 for converts critical intellectuals artists and progressive Quranic studies specialists journalists and secularists agnostics and confessing atheists enlightened thinkers women s rights and human rights activists as well as adherents of non recognized minorities

Cambodia's Muslims and the Malay World Philipp Bruckmayr, 2019-03-25 In this monograph Philipp Bruckmayr examines the development of Cambodia s Muslim minority from the mid 19th to the 21st century During this period Cambodia s Cham and Chvea Muslims established strong relationships with Malay centers of Islamic learning in Patani Kelantan and Mecca During the 1970s to the early 1990s these longstanding relationships came to a sudden halt due to civil war and the systematic Khmer Rouge repression Since the 1990s ties to the Malay world have been revived and new Islamic currents including Salafism and Tablighism have left their mark on contemporary Cambodian Islam Bruckmayr traces how these dynamics resulted inter alia in a history of local Islamic factionalism culminating in the eventual state recognition of two separate Islamic congregations in the late 1990s
