Bauman, Richard R. Bohannon, Kevin J. O'Brien, 2011-08-04 Religion and ecology has arrived What was once a niche interest for a few academics concerned with environmental issues and a few environmentalists interested in religion has become an established academic field with classic texts graduate programs regular meetings at academic conferences and growing interest from other academics and the mass media Theologians ethicists sociologists and other scholars are engaged in a broad dialogue about the ways religious studies can help understand and address environmental problems including the sorts of methodological terminological and substantive debates that characterize any academic discourse This book recognizes the field that has taken shape reflects on the ways it is changing and anticipates its development in the future The essays offer analyses and reflections from emerging scholars of religion and ecology each addressing her or his own specialty in light of two questions 1 What have we inherited from the work that has come before us and 2 What inquiries concerns and conversation partners should be central to the next generation of scholarship The aim of this volume is not to lay out a single and clear path forward for the field Rather the authors critically reflect on the field from within outline some of the major issues we face in the academy and offer perspectives that will nurture continued dialogue     Islam ,     Islam and Christianity John Renard, 2011-03-08 John Renard presents a judicious overview of Muslim and Christian ways of being in the world This work eloquently refutes common Western stereotypes regarding Muslims and Islam and adds to the growing call for Muslim Christian understanding on a global scale It is an elegantly crafted book David L Johnston author of Earth Empire and Sacred Text Muslims and Christians as Trustees of Creation John Renard offers a lucid portrayal of the major aspects of Christianity and Islam identifying numerous points of congruence without denying significant dissimilarities The call he makes for Christians and Muslims to show greater mutual awareness and respect is persuasive and hard to ignore David Thomas Professor of Christianity and Islam University of Birmingham     Suburban Islam Justine Howe, 2018 In Suburban Islam Justine Howe explores the rise of third spaces created by educated middle class American Muslims to challenge their exclusion from the American mainstream and to enact visions for American Islam different from those they encounter in their local mosques Howe shows how third spaces have shaped not just the development of American Islam but are also reshaping the rich religious landscape of America s suburbs     The Muslim Speaks Khurram Hussain, 2020-10-29 The Muslim Speaks reimagines Islam as a strategy for investigating the modern condition Rather than imagining it as an issue external to a discrete West Khurram Hussain constructs Islam as internal to the elaboration and expansion of the West In doing so he reveals three discursive traps that of freedom reason and culture that inhibit the availability of Islam as a feasible critical interlocutor in Western deliberations about moral intellectual and political concerns Through close examination of this inhibition Hussain posits that while Islamophobia is clearly a moral wrong depoliticization more accurately describes the problems associated with the lived experience of Muslims in the West and elsewhere Weaving together his conclusions in the hope of a common world Khurram Hussain boldly and quite radically deems that what Islam needs is not depoliticization but infact repoliticization

Piety, Politics, and Power David D. Grafton, 2009-03-16 From the time of Martin Luther's writing of On War Against the Turk in 1529 to American Lutheran military chaplains serving in the U S led invasion of Iraq in 2003 Lutheranism has had a symbiotic relationship with Islam in the Middle East framed across cultural and religious borders There have been those who have crossed these borders to engage in mission and dialogue In Piety Politics and Power David Grafton examines the origins of the American Lutheran missionary movement in the Middle East with a focus on its encounter with Muslims and the varied Lutheran theological responses toward Islam The narrative is placed within historical contexts to provide an overarching background of Middle Eastern history and Christian Muslim Relations The survey covers Lutheran missionary communities in Persia Iraq Egypt Lebanon and Jerusalem and the West Bank including the work of the Lutherans working for the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions the Anglican Church Missionary Society the Lutheran Orient Mission the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod and the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America Whether enthusiastic Pietists seeking the conversion of Muslims and Jews cautious theologians in dialogue with Islam Judaism or Oriental Orthodoxy or social activists working on behalf of refugees in Egypt and the West Bank Grafton argues that these Christian missionaries were all enmeshed in the politics of the communities in which they lived and either contributed to or suffered from the realities of Middle Eastern and international politics Given the current reality of Pax Americana in the Middle East the author asks the driving question about the role of American Lutheran missions and Lutheran Middle Eastern Muslim dialogue in the age of American power in the Middle East

Muslim Religious Authority in Central Eurasia Ron Sela, Paolo Sartori, Devin DeWeese, 2022-11-21 Thirty years after the fall of Soviet power we are beginning to understand that the experience of Muslims in the USSR continued patterns of adaptation and negotiation known from Muslim history in the lands that became the Soviet Union and in other regions as well we can also now understand that the long history of Muslims situating religious authority locally in the various regions that came under Soviet rule in fact continued through the Soviet era into post Soviet times The present volume is intended to historicize the question of religious authority in Muslim Central Eurasia through historical and anthropological case studies about the exercise negotiation or institutionalization of authority from the nineteenth to the early twenty first century it thus seeks to frame Islamic religious history in the areas shaped by Russian and Soviet rule in terms of issues relevant to Muslims themselves as
