The Road-maker ,1917 Road Stories Stephen D. Shearer,2004-03 Truckers are the shining knights of the road They have their own stories their own legends and they carry them from coast to coast The modern troubadour is alive and well on Americaas highways Take the time to sit at the lunch counter of a truck stop and you will hear stories that will curl your toes or make you laugh out loud These short stories are but the tip of the iceberg of the stories told on the road All of these stories are planted with a seed of truth Read ghost stories police stories vampire stories and mysteries Read about the everyday life of truckers and the life they would like to have Laugh and cry with some of the hardest working people in this country American Highways ,1926 America's highways, 1776-1976 United States. Federal Highway Administration,1977 Roads of Her Own Alexandra Ganser,2009 Reading Jack Kerouac s classic On the Road through Virginia Woolf s canonical A Room of One s Own the author of this book examines a genre in North American literature which despite its popularity has received little attention in literary and cultural criticism women s road narratives The study shows how women s literature has inscribed itself into the American discourse of the Whitmanesque open road or more generally the freedom of the road Women writers have participated in this powerful American myth yet at the same time also have rejected that myth as fundamentally based on gendered and racial ethnic hierarchies and power structures and modified it in the process of writing back to it The book analyzes stories about female runaways outlaws questers adventurers kidnapees biker chicks travelling saleswomen and picaras and makes theoretical observations on the debates regarding discourses of spatiality and mobility debates which have defined the so called spatial turn in the humanities The analytical concept of transdifference is introduced to theorize the dissonant plurality of social and cultural affiliations as well as the narrative tensions produced by such pluralities in order to better understand the textual worlds of women's multiple belongings as they are present in these writings Roads of Her Own is thus not only situated in the broader context of a constructivist cultural studies but also by discussing narrative mobility under the sign of gender combines insights from social theory and philosophy feminist cultural geography and literary studies Key names and concepts Doreen Massey Rosi Braidotti Literary Studies Spatial Turn Gendered Space and Mobility Nomadism Road writing Transdifference American Culture Popular Culture Women's Literature after the Second Wave Quest Picara American Highway & Transportation Monthly, 1927
