Lost in the Zoo! Norberto Lombardi, 2014-12-17 Age 8 9 years old Reading level 3rd Grade Discover Lola and Woofy's wonderful adventures Lola and Woofy are the best friends in the whole world Today they are going to the zoo with Titou thank to Lola's dad Short stories for beginning readers EXCERPT Lola was helping her mum to make the tea when she heard her dad come in from work Lola ran to hug him What a nice way to greet your old dad he said Dad was always pleased to be home from work but today he seemed even happier than usual What surprise has he got for us Lola asked herself ABOUT THE SERIES 14 cute and short stories to which every kid can relate Each adventure puts Lola an ordinary little girl and her pet dog in a realistic everyday situation With short sentences and simple words first readers can read and understand these books easily A good way for beginners to put their reading to practice Featured books A surprising goal An original advert Texas camping What a fright Everybody in the ring What a Show The Odd Student A Good Catch Puppy Love Woofy in Pain Woofy Missing Happy Holidays The Mischief Maker The Logic of Our Language Rodger L. Jackson, Melanie L. McLeod, 2014-11-04 The Logic of Our Language teaches the practical and everyday application of formal logic Rather than overwhelming the reader with abstract theory Jackson and McLeod show how the skills developed through the practice of logic can help us to better understand our own language and reasoning processes The authors goal is to draw attention to the patterns and logical structures inherent in our spoken and written language by teaching the reader how to translate English sentences into formal symbols Other logical tools including truth tables truth trees and natural deduction are then introduced as techniques for examining the properties of symbolized sentences and assessing the validity of arguments A substantial number of practice questions are offered both within the book itself and as interactive activities on a companion website Bonobos Brian Hare, Shinya Yamamoto, 2017-10-20 The bonobo along with the chimpanzee is one of our two closest living relatives Their relatively narrow geographic range south of the Congo River in the Democratic Republic of Congo combined with the history of political instability in the region has made their scientific study extremely difficult In contrast there are dozens of wild and captive sites where research has been conducted for decades with chimpanzees Because data sets on bonobos have been so hard to obtain and so few large scale studies have been published the majority of researchers have treated chimpanzee data as being representative of both species However this misconception is now rapidly changing With relative stability in the DRC for over a decade and a growing community of bonobos living in zoos and sanctuaries internationally there has been an explosion of scientific interest in the bonobo with dozens of high impact publications focusing on this fascinating species This research has revealed exactly how unique bonobos are in their brains and behavior and reminds us why it is so important that we redouble our efforts to protect the few remaining wild populations of this iconic and highly endangered great ape species The Terpsichorean, 1919 Spanish American Women's Use of the Word Stacey Schlau, 2022-10-18 Women's participation both formal and informal in the creation of what we now call Spanish America is reflected in its literary legacy Stacey Schlau examines what women from a wide spectrum of classes and races have to say about the societies in which they lived and their place in them Schlau has written the first book to study a historical selection of Spanish American women's writings with an emphasis on social and political themes Through their words she offers an alternative vision of the development of narrative genres critical fictional and testimonial from colonial times to the present The authors considered here represent the chronological yet nonlinear development of women's narrative They include Teresa Romero Zapata accused before the Inquisition of being a false visionary In's Su rez nun and writer of spiritual autobiography Gertrudis Gomez de Avellaneda author of an indigenist historical romance Magda Portal whose biography of Flora Tristán furthered her own political agenda Dora Alonso who wrote revolutionary children's books Domitila Barrios de Chungara political leader and organizer Elvira Orphée whose novel unpacks the psychology of the torturer and several others who address social and political struggles that continue to the present day Although the writers treated here may seem to have little in common all sought to maneuver through institutions and systems and insert themselves into public life by using the written word often through the appropriation and modification of mainstream genres In examining how these authors stretched the boundaries of genre to create a multiplicity of hybrid forms Schlau reveals points of convergence in the narrative tradition of challenging established political and social structures Outlining the shape of this literary tradition she introduces us to a host of neglected voices as well as examining better known ones who demonstrate that for women simply writing can be a political act

In Search of Shelter Margot Miller, 2003-01-01 Miller synthesizes Karen Horney's model of submission aggression and withdrawal Jean Baker Miller's concept of relational being Julia Kristeva's idea of psychic space and Kelly Oliver's notions on social support to advance a penetrating analysis of the fiction of Paule Constant

Green Cane and Juicy Flotsam Carmen C. Esteves, 1991 Perhaps the most salient feature of the stories collected here is their presentation of the multiplicity of voices of Caribbean women

Parable II No Dust is Allowed in This House of Nuns and Punishment Reminds us of the accomplishments of Caribbean women and promise of their writing

The Story of Colchester Zoo S. C. Kershaw, 2013-05-15 Colchester Zoo is today one of the finest zoos in Britain Yet unlike almost every other major zoo in the country Colchester Zoo has never had its story told until now The forgotten figures of Frank and Helena Farrar are here brought to life once again in these pages which show how they founded firstly Southport Zoo in the 1950s and then Colchester Zoo in the 1960s Told here is the story of how Frank and Helena's domestic life with their lions and monkeys prompted them to embark on a series of adventures which took them all over the world Also told is the story of how Colchester Zoo declined in the 1970s and how the Tropeano family turned it into the internationally respected breeding centre for endangered animals that it is today This is a tale of struggle and heartbreak but also of transformation and redemption and is a fitting tribute to one of our great animal institutions as it reaches its fiftieth anniversary take place during a span of almost sixty years of travel in the rugged parched yet hauntingly attractive peninsula The author kept detailed notes on most of his trips then fleshed out this skeleton in a narrative that places the reader in the role of participant in the adventure Thus one feels the bite of the 4WD tires into the desert sand newly hard packed by the moisture of a quick moving thunderstorm The author describes the excitement of finding Indian petroglyphs arrowheads or clay ollas in remote canyons Because Mr Tiscareo is also a pilot many of the trips included here involve mention of the special immigration rules for private fly in tourists Finally there are Baja adventures in the pine clad granite fortress that is the Sierra de San Pedro Mrtir in the northern part of the peninsula Here the author joined other veteran Bajeos in hoof and boot or horse assisted explorations In short this book should be inspiration to those readers who want to visit Baja California particularly the less tourist trod destinations Armchair travelers will derive vicarious pleasure without the effort of going
