The Amazon has launched the new model with many awesome features that are easy to use. Liquid Scripture Jeffrey S. Siker, 2017-09-01 The electronic Bible is here to stay, packaged in software on personal computers, available as apps on tablets and cell phones. Increasingly, students look at glowing screens to consult the Bible in class, and congregants do the same in Bible study and worship. Jeffrey S. Siker asks what difference does it make to our experience of Scripture if we no longer hold a book in our hands if we again scroll through Scripture? How does the flow of electronic Scripture change our perception of the Bible's authority and significance? Siker discusses the difference made when early Christians adopted the codex rather than the scroll, and Gutenberg began the mass production of printed Bibles. He also reviews the latest research on how the reading brain processes digital texts and how churches use digital Bibles, including American Bible Society research and his own surveys of church leaders. Siker asks: does the proliferation of electronic translations reduce the perceived seriousness of Scripture? Does it promote an individualistic response to the Bible? How does the change from a physical Bible affect liturgical practice? His synthesis of the advantages and risks of the digitized Bible merits serious reflection in classrooms and churches alike.

Ambient Literature Tom Abba, Jonathan Dovey, Kate Pullinger, 2020-11-30 This book considers how a combination of place-based writing and location-responsive technologies produce new kinds of literary experiences. Building on the work done in the Ambient Literature Project (2016-2018), this book argues that these encounters constitute new literary forms in which the authored text lies at the heart of an embodied and mediated experience. The visual, sonic, social, and historic resources of place become the elements of a live and emergent mise en scene Specific techniques of narration including hallucination memory history place based writing and drama as well as reworking of traditional storytelling forms combine with the work of app and user experience design interaction software authoring and GIS geographical information systems to produce ambient experiences where the user reads a textual and sonic literary space These experiences are temporary ambiguous and unpredictable in their meaning but unlike the theatre the gallery or the cinema they take place in the everyday shared world The book explores the potentiality of a new literary form produced by the exchange between location aware cultural objects writers and readers This book and the work it explores lays the ground for a new poetics of situated writing and reading practices iPad 2013 0000,0000,2013-03-21 iPad Reina iPad mini iPad 1 iPad iPad iPad
