Black Greek-letter Organizations in the Twenty-First Century Gregory S. Parks, 2008-06-13 During the twentieth century black Greek Letter organizations BGLOs united college students dedicated to excellence fostered kinship and uplifted African Americans Members of these organizations include remarkable and influential individuals such as Martin Luther King Jr Congresswoman Barbara Jordan novelist Toni Morrison and Wall Street pioneer Reginald F Lewis Despite the profound influence of these groups many now question the continuing relevance of BGLOs arguing that their golden age has passed Partly because of their perceived link to hip hop culture black fraternities and sororities have been unfairly reduced to a media stereotype a world of hazing without any real substance The general public knows very little about BGLOs and surprisingly the members themselves often do not have a thorough understanding of their history and culture or of the issues currently facing their organizations To foster a greater engagement with the history and contributions of BGLOs Black Greek Letter Organizations in the Twenty first Century Our Fight Has Just Begun brings together an impressive group of authors to explore the contributions and continuing possibilities of BGLOs and their members Editor Gregory S Parks and the contributing authors provide historical context for the development of BGLOs exploring their service activities as well as their relationships with other prominent African American institutions The book examines BGLOs responses to a number of contemporary issues including non black membership homosexuality within BGLOs and the perception of BGLOs as educated gangs As illustrated by the organized response of BGLO members to the racial injustice they observed in Jena Louisiana these organizations still have a vital mission Both internally and externally BGLOs struggle to forge a relevant identity for the new century Internally these groups wrestle with many issues including hazing homophobia petty intergroup competition and the difficulty of bridging the divide between college and alumni members Externally BGLOs face the challenge of rededicating themselves to their communities and leading an aggressive campaign against modern forms of racism sexism and other types of fear driven behavior By embracing the history of these organizations and exploring their continuing viability and relevance Black Greek Letter Organizations in the Twenty first Century demonstrates that BGLOs can create a positive and enduring future and that their most important work lies ahead

Memories of the Heart Yvonne Woolfolk Britton, 2014-06-23 The purpose of this publication is to pass on to future generations reflections of the past How times can change and yet remain the same How you can survive regardless of hard times Also the desire to inspire those that come after me is important A wise person once said that gratitude is the memory of the heart My memories enrich my life as the days and years go by I recall treasured memories that continue to enrich my soul I choose to review my memory bank with gratitude Recalling the kindness of others brings a smile to my face and lifts my spirits I appreciate the people who have shared this life with me My memories of good times and good people reveal the light of God that shines unceasingly on us all As I look back with gratitude for the loved ones and opportunities that have brought me great joy and fulfillment I also enjoy the fullness of this present moment Right now I am making memories for the years to come I hope to leave the world a better place because of my living in it to love and be loved to do good and show respect to act justly and fairly to care well for the earth in my small patch of the planet

Continually Working Crystal Marie Moten, 2023-03-15 Continually Working tells the stories of Black working women who resisted employment inequality in Milwaukee Wisconsin from the 1940s to the 1970s The book explores the job related activism of Black Midwestern working women and uncovers the political and intellectual strategies they used to critique and resist employment discrimination dismantle unjust structures and transform their lives and the lives of those in their community Moten emphasizes the ways in which Black women transformed the urban landscape by simultaneously occupying spaces from which they had been historically excluded and creating their own spaces Black women refused to be marginalized within the historically white and middle class Milwaukee Young Women's Christian Association MYWCA an association whose mission centered on supporting women in urban areas Black women forged interracial relationships within this organization and made it not without much conflict and struggle one of the most socially progressive organizations in the city When Black women could not integrate historically white institutions they created their own They established financial and educational institutions such as Pressley School of Beauty Culture which beautician Mattie Pressley DeWese opened in 1946 as a result of segregation in the beauty training industry This school served economic educational and community development purposes as well as created economic opportunities for Black women Historically and contemporarily Milwaukee has been and is still known as one of the most segregated cities in the nation Black women have always contested urban inequality by making space for themselves and others on the margins In so doing they have transformed both the urban landscape and urban history

Bertha Maxwell-Roddey Sonya Y. Ramsey, 2022-06-21 This biography of educational activist and Black studies pioneer Bertha Maxwell Roddey examines a life of remarkable achievements and leadership in the early years of the desegregated South Sonya Ramsey describes how Maxwell Roddey and her peers turned hard won civil rights and feminist milestones into tangible accomplishments in North Carolina and nationwide from the late 1960s to the 1990s

The Chosen We Rachelle Winkle-Wagner, 2023-12-01 The Chosen We elevates the oral histories of 105 accomplished college educated Black women who earned success despite experiencing reprehensible racist and sexist barriers The central argument is that these women succeeded in and beyond college by developing a Chosen We a community with one another The book builds on their words and insights to offer a powerful rethinking of educational success that moves away from individualistic and competitive models and instead imagines success as a result of recognizing what people owe to one another It also uncovers the importance of the type of institutions that students attend for higher education comparing Black women's experiences not only by region and era but also by whether they attended a predominantly White institution PWI or a historically Black college or university HBCU The Chosen We features theoretical and methodological exemplars for how to conduct research across lines of difference The Black women's oral histories shared here manifest the wisdom from which many groups in the United States might benefit that liberation is only found through community
