Fire in the Tropical Biota Johann G. Goldammer, 2012-12-06 In 1977 the Volkswagen Foundation sponsored the first of a series of International Symposia on Fire Ecology at Freiburg University Federal Republic of Germany The scope of the congresses was to create a platform for researchers at a time when the science of fire ecology was not yet recognized and established outside of North America and Australia Whereas comprehensive information on the fire ecology of the northern boreal the temperate and the mediterranean biotas is meanwhile available it was recognized that considerable gaps in information exist on the role of fire in tropical and sub tropical ecosystems Thus it seemed timely to meet the growing scientific interest and public demand for reliable and updated information and to synthesize the available knowledge of tropical fire ecology and the impact of tropical biomass burning on global ecosystem processes The Third Symposium on Fire Ecology again sponsored by the Volkswagen Foundation and held at Freiburg University in May 1989 was convened to prepare this first pantropical and multidisciplinary monograph on fire ecology The book in which 46 scientists cooperated analyzes those fire related ecosystem processes which have not yet been described in a synoptic way Following the editor's concept duplication at previous efforts in describing tropical vegetation patterns and dynamics was avoided Extensive bibliographical sources are given in the reference lists of the chapters

Second Growth Robin L. Chazdon, 2014-05-23 For decades conservation and research initiatives in tropical forests have focused almost exclusively on old growth forests because scientists believed that these pristine ecosystems housed superior levels of biodiversity With Second Growth Robin L. Chazdon reveals those assumptions to be largely false bringing to the fore the previously overlooked counterpart to old growth forest second growth Even as human activities result in extensive fragmentation and deforestation tropical forests demonstrate a great capacity for natural and human aided regeneration Although these damaged landscapes can take centuries to regain the characteristics of old growth Chazdon shows here that regenerating or second growth forests are vital dynamic reservoirs of biodiversity and environmental services What is more they always have been With chapters on the roles these forests play in carbon and nutrient cycling sustaining biodiversity providing timber and non timber products and integrated agriculture Second Growth not only offers a thorough and wide ranging overview of successional and restoration pathways but also underscores the need to conserve and further study regenerating tropical forests in an attempt to inspire a new age of local and global stewardship Knowledge ,1887 Extreme Wildfire Events and Disasters Fantina Tedim,Vittorio Leone,Tara K.
