Androids Chet Haase, 2022-07-12. The fascinating inside story of how the Android operating system came to be. In 2004, Android was two people who wanted to build camera software but couldn't get investors interested. Today, Android is a large team at Google delivering an operating system including camera software to over 3 billion devices worldwide. This is the inside story told by the people who made it happen. Androids: The Team that Built the Android Operating System is a first-hand chronological account of how the startup began, how the team came together, and how they all built an operating system from the kernel level to its applications and everything in between. It describes the tenuous beginnings of this ambitious project as a tiny startup, then as a small acquisition by Google that took on an industry with strong entrenched competition. Author Chet Haase joined the Android team at Google in May 2010 and later recorded conversations with team members to preserve the early days of Android's history leading to the launch of 1.0. This engaging and accessible book captures the developers' stories in their own voices to answer the question: How did Android succeed?

A Software Framework for Mobile Apps in the Museum Application Domain Tobias Baumgärtner, 2024-05-02. This book is concerned with how to provide guidance for small cultural heritage institutions to govern digital transformation and how to align the possibilities with the available capabilities by creating a Software Framework for Mobile Apps in the Museum Application Domain. The role of the museum has shifted from a keeper of artifacts to a provider of information. In this context, mobile applications are intended to generate added value for the museum visitor. However, the tension between the application's creator, its content, and the consumer operating the app needs to be examined holistically. As it is not trivial to create an integrated user experience, the unique usability-centered perspective on the requirements engineering pursued throughout allows for the suggested data-driven solution to address the specific domain issues and serve the intended audience. Based on the insights gained during this examination and under the utilization of design science research, human-centered design, and domain-driven design, a Software Framework for Mobile Apps in the Museum Application Domain is created and implemented using web technologies.

Mobile Telecommunications in a High-Speed World Peter Curwen, Jason Whalley, 2016-07-22. Mobile Telecommunications in a High-Speed World tells the story of 3G and higher-speed mobile communication technologies. Over ten years have passed since the first third-generation 3G licences were awarded following debates about the merits of auctions versus beauty contests; then nothing much happened. More licences were issued, a few roll-outs commenced, and everyone began to think it had all been a horribly expensive mistake. That may still turn out to be the case, but in the meantime there have been massive developments in terms of the number of licences and launches worldwide in the range of services that can be accessed in the range of devices that can be used to access them in operator strategies etc Even the technology has improved considerably with 4G now under discussion Much of this story has been chronicled largely on the Internet but the information is in tens of thousands of bits and pieces and a large part of it is either misleading or just plain wrong Here Peter Curwen and Jason Whalley introduce the outcomes of research that has involved the compilation of a unique database which details every licence and launch worldwide involving 3G The authors discuss the structure of the industry and the strategic behaviour of operators as well as the social consequences of the spread of 3G They examine the role of new entry upon competition and present analysis of the main operators involved the development of handsets and especially smartphones A number of country case studies are included This comprehensive and up to date volume includes a number of country studies and is written by two of the world s foremost researchers on this industry Mobile

Telecommunications in a High Speed World will serve the needs of students academics and those involved or contemplating involvement with the telecoms industry Why pay thousands of dollars to consultancies to separate the wheat from the chaff with respect to 3G when you can read this book The Android Developer's Cookbook James Steele,Nelson To,2010-10-17
