

STAT 201 MIDTERM2 REVIEW

We can use Z scores to roughly identify which observations are more unusual than others. One observation  $X_1$  is said to be more unusual than another observation  $X_2$  if the absolute value of its Z score is larger than the absolute value of the other observation's Z score:  $|Z_1| > |Z_2|$ . This technique is especially insightful when a distribution is symmetric.

Simulating observations using a hypothesized null parameter value is often called a parametric bootstrap simulation.

The normal model poorly approximates the null distribution for  $\hat{p}$  when the success-failure condition is not satisfied. As a substitute, we can generate the null distribution using simulated sample proportions and use this distribution to compute the tail area, i.e., the p-value.
