EARLY TOOLS

While most gathering was done by hand, the "digging tool" came about later to dig into the earth to plant seeds. This tool was helpful during the transition to farming.

EGALITARIAN

Hunter-gatherer societies were egalitarian, which meant that there was no chief or hierarchical structure. Decisions were made together, and food was shared.

HUNTER-GATHERER DIORAMA

UNCONTACTED PEOPLE

Today more than 150 million men, women, and children live in tribal societies in over 60 countries around the world. However, with logging, mining, and oil companies destroying tribal lands, it has become increasingly difficult for tribal people to maintain their livelihoods. International law is in place to protect land ownership and rights, however these are not always respected.

The highest concentration of uncontacted tribes are located in what is known as the Uncontacted Frontier on the borders of Peru, Brazil, and Bolivia. The tribes include the Itonama, Mursi, Mursi, Mursi-Peto, Mursi, Mursi, and many more whose names are unknown. The people move nomadically across the region.
