Ferraris,2020-06-22 In this collection of essays Maurizio Ferraris explores the world portrayed in Marcel Proust's In Search of Lost Time He ponders how memory is tied to self identification and knowledge how the passage of time is only perceptible after it has passed and how life ultimately is accurately portrayed in literature in ways that were seen as inconceivable in our youth Running throughout the book is the sense that memory is all we are we are what we remember or what others remember of us Hoffman's Index to Poetry Herbert H. Le Pense-bête Didier Gourvennec Ogor, The Catholic Historical Review ,1922 The Economy in its house Marcel Aucoin,2020-02-03T00:00:00+01:00 The title The Economy in its House echoes Xenophon's book conomicus which focuses on the relationship of a house with its environment rather than on trade It also makes reference to a question from Socrates What is a house It is by striving to explore these relationships and questions reflecting the conditions of our time that we have concluded that the economy is in its house and that changes everything Indeed this leads us to establish a foundation new but grafted onto ancient roots for economics By integrating into our theory the unpredictable environment we provide economists with a framework to address the multiple issues that arise not only in our common home the Earth but also to all other houses Our model is based on the hypothesis of the random nature of the economy which brings us closer to modern physics and its methods On these pillars our model abstracts economic agents and focuses attention on the interconnected constituents of the house both their mutual statistical relationships and those they have with the environment The covariance matrix that retraces such relationships indicates how the environment disrupts on average each constituent during a period This gives the possibility to explore the destinies of the houses in the short middle or long run through crises and changing perspectives of ruin It makes it possible to identify three essential variables the growth factor the growth energy and finally the prices root which is also the weight of the unit of account and an anti ruin coefficient One of the characteristics of modern houses is that among their constituents positive covariances outweigh negative covariances Hence their growth we explore its links with the reduction of inequalities and its pathologies pollution and depletion of resources We shows how we can fight against crises and inequalities through greater solidarity We show that one can model any house by use of a miniature house its soul with two components the hearth and the roof and three guiding parameters exposure to hazards security and performance With these guides one expresses all the macroeconomic variables relative to a house These are preserved by passing from a house whatever its importance to its soul The wealth of the results obtained shows that the path open must allow economists to go farther and safer in their work while also enabling a broader public to better understand what the economy is
