Carceral Realities and Freedom Dreams

Launching the Fall Issue of MERIP's Middle East Report

HYBRID EVENT - In person and Zoom

Friday Oct 11, 2024 | 12:00 PM - 2:00 PM PST

McCune Conference Room, HSSB 6020

The Middle East Report Fall 2024 issue focuses on carceralism—that is, forms of un-freedom—and organized resistance against it. Imprisonment and detention are carceral realities. So too are militarized policing and border control, enwalled and besieged environments, surveillance, enforced disappearance, segregation and apartheid. Carceral regimes rely on the confinement or exclusion of people and categories of people that state agents deem to be dangerous, hostile or superfluous. Carceralism is a defining feature of the lives of many around the world, and this is certainly true in the Middle East. Yet carceral realities do not have to be destiny. Dissidents and activists continue to harbor freedom dreams which animate their resistance to repression.

At this event, authors of some articles in this issue will describe and analyze carceral realities in the Middle East, as well as the challenges and benefits of fighting for freedom.

This event is a production of the Security in Context network with the support of the Carnegie Corporation.

Oyeniyi, 2012-05-03 Ideal for high school students and undergraduates this volume explores contemporary life and culture in Libya Libya is one of Africa's largest nations but its topography is dominated by a huge southern desert with some of the hottest temperatures recorded anywhere in the world Culture and Customs of Libya explores the daily lives of the 90 million men, women and children who struggle to get by in this authoritarian state where only a fraction of the land is arable and 90 percent of the people live in less than 10 percent of the area primarily along the Mediterranean coast In this comprehensive overview of modern Libyan life readers can explore topics such as religion, contemporary literature, media, art, housing, music and dance They will learn about education and employment and will see how traditions and customs of the past including those from Libya's long domination by the Ottoman Empire and 40 years as an Italian colony are kept alive or have evolved to fit into today's modern age

Gender Politics In Sudan Sondra Hale, 2018-10-08 Focusing on the relationship between gender and the state in the construction of national identity politics in twentieth century northern Sudan the author investigates the mechanisms that the state and political and religious interest groups employ for achieving political and cultural hegemony Hale argues that such a process involves the transformation of culture through the involvement of women in both left wing and Islamist revolutionary movements In drawing parallels between the gender ideology of secular and religious organizations in Sudan Hale analyzes male positioning of women within the culture to serve the movement Using data from fieldwork conducted between 1961 and 1988 she investigates the conditions under which women's culture can be active generating positive expressions of resistance and transformation Hale argues that in northern Sudan women may be using Islam to construct their own identities and improve their situation Nevertheless she raises questions about the barriers that women may face now that the Islamic state is achieving hegemony and discusses limits of identity politics

The Palestinian Left and Its Decline Francesco Saverio Leopardi, 2020-07-06 This book examines the history of the Palestinian Left by focusing on the trajectory of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine PFLP during its declining phase Relying on a substantial corpus of primary sources this study illustrates how the PFLP's political agency contributed to its own marginalisation within the Palestinian national movement Following the 1982 eviction of the Palestine Liberation Organisation PLO from Lebanon the bases of the PFLP's opposition to Fatah's primacy in the national movement were jeopardised This book argues that the PFLP's loyalty to the PLO institutional and political framework prevented the formulation of a real counterhegemonic political project This drove the PFLP's action to suffer a fundamental contradiction undermining its stance within the national movement In the attempt to continue its opposition to Fatah while maintaining integration in the Palestinian mainstream the PFLP's agency fluctuated compromising its effectiveness and credibility Apparently irreversible the PFLP's marginalisation is a factor fostering the current Palestinian impasse as no alternative is emerging to break the thirteen year long Hamas Fatah polarisation

Precarious Modernities Cristiana Strava, 2021-12-02 Using rich ethnographic detail Precarious Modernities offers an immersive account of the multiple scales and entangled actors involved in the objectification and instrumentalization of Casablanca's margins as part of ongoing and contingent processes of modernization Focusing on the everyday lives and spaces of a mythicized community and its interaction with heritage activists international development agendas and technocratic planning regimes the book documents how the depoliticization of the urban margins aids the consolidation of deeply unequal social spatial and economic orders The result is a unique account of the political continuities security logics economic ideologies and competing forces that shape the possibilities open to precarious communities in a storied and sprawling metropolis As marginalized inhabitants develop pragmatic ways of appropriating or resisting powerful agendas unanticipated and novel forms of political engagement emerge These signal the revival and reconfiguration of notions of class and open up creative and alternative spatial avenues for participation in an era of increasing authoritarianisms

Iraq Gareth Stansfield, 2016-09-22 Few countries can claim to have endured such a difficult and tortuous history as that of Iraq Its varied peoples have had to contend with externally imposed state building at the end of the First World War through to the rise of authoritarian military regimes to the all encompassing power of Saddam Hussein's dictatorship They have endured destructive wars internationally imposed sanctions and a further bout of destabilizing regime change and subsequent state building from 2003 The recent rise of the Islamic State the consolidation of the Kurdistan Region and the response of the Shi

Development, Change, and Gender in Cairo Diane Singerman, Homa Hoodfar, 1996. The authors of these rich ethnographic essays demonstrate that the Egyptian household plays a crucial, if largely overlooked, role in the dynamics of political, economic, and social change. While Western social scientists have assumed that employment outside the home improves women's autonomy and economic status, economic liberalization in Egypt is shown here to have worsened the economic situation of women and undermined their authority within the household. The collection explains why such everyday issues as unemployment, government subsidies, gender relations, housing, political participation, educational mobility, and the standard of living have become increasingly politicized at the household level.

The Arab Lobby and US Foreign Policy Khalil Marrar, 2008-10-27. The US foreign policy stance on Israel/Palestine has shifted considerably in recent years, from a position of Israel-only to one which embraces both Israel and Palestine in a call for peace. This volume assesses why the US stance has evolved in the way that it has, concluding that while international factors cannot be overlooked, developments within the United States itself are also crucial. After years of vacillating on Palestinian national aspirations, the majority of Americans, the author notes, have come to favor the establishment of an independent Palestinian state on the West Bank and the Gaza Strip. Considering what accounts for changes in US policy on Israel/Palestine, this volume delivers a thorough assessment of the role of international and domestic factors in shaping US policy in this area, considers how US policy has evolved from the Camp David negotiations of the 1970s up to the occupation of Iraq in the mid-2000s, explores the significance of American public opinion, and the pro-Israel and Arab lobbies in the evolution of US policy. The Arab Lobby and US Foreign Policy will be of interest to students and scholars of Foreign Policy and Political Science, Current Affairs, and American Studies. Khalil M. Marrar is Professor at DePaul University, USA. He has served in editorial positions at the Arab

Political Regimes in the Arab World

Ferran Izquierdo Brichs, 2012-11-27 One of the implications of Orientalism is that the Arab world as a homogenous entity is often analysed as an anomaly within the international system This book argues that despite their differences societies across the globe ultimately construct their own history according to very similar dynamics and tensions The methodological approach of this book using different countries within the Arab world as models offers the reader an analysis of relations between the elites and their opposition in a variety of settings A definition of the political structure of each country is drawn from this analysis before potential future scenarios as according to country specific experts are proposed This model provides a useful contribution to students and scholars of political science and international relations Through providing a comparative study of the political regimes currently operating in the Arab world their elites civil society power resources and political resistance this book illustrates that despite the image of homogeneity sometimes portrayed by the Arab world it is the multiplicity of models and heterogeneity of regimes that constitute reality
