Challenges to Measurement in an Era of Accountability Henry Braun, 2016-01-29 Under pressure and support from the federal government states have increasingly turned to indicators based on student test scores to evaluate teachers and schools as well as students themselves The focus thus far has been on test scores in those subject areas where there is a sequence of consecutive tests such as in mathematics or English language arts with a focus on grades 4-8 Teachers in these subject areas however constitute less than thirty percent of the teacher workforce in a district Comparatively little has been written about the measurement of achievement in the other grades and subjects This volume seeks to remedy this imbalance by focusing on the assessment of student achievement in a broad range of grade levels and subject areas with particular attention to their use in the evaluation of teachers and schools in all It addresses traditional end of course tests as well as alternative measures such as portfolios exhibitions and student learning objectives In each case issues related to design and development psychometric considerations and validity challenges are covered from both a generic and a content specific perspective The NCME Applications of Educational Measurement and Assessment series includes edited volumes designed to inform research based applications of educational measurement and assessment Edited by leading experts these books are comprehensive and practical resources on the latest developments in the field The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license The Divide Within Tina L. preservation of power and privilege In recent decades researchers focused attention on studying the social geographic political and technological polarization in the United States Trends manifest in myriad ways both in politics and in everyday life and expose the divergence between urban and rural communities These inquiries also suggest that causes and effects of identity politics and polarization are too complex to be studied within the confines of a single discipline Its exploration therefore requires participation and collaboration from scholars in many different fields particularly those working in the social sciences In this edited volume we seek to leverage this research capacity to engage the reader in studies and instruction concerning the divide within and the intersections of realities facts theories and practices in social science education Download a sample article Teaching to a Statue Wade H Morris Georgia State University Chara Haessler Bohan Georgia State University
