Manalive G K Chesterton:

Manalive G. K. Chesterton, 2011 This classic novel by the brilliant G K Chesterton tells the rollicking tale of Innocent Smith a man who may be crazy or possibly the most sane man of all Arriving at a dreary London boarding house accompanied by a windstorm Smith is an exuberant eccentric and sweet natured man Smith has a positive effect on the house he creates his own court brings a few couples together and falls in love with a paid companion next door All seems to be well with the world Then the unexpected happens Smith shoots at one of the tenants and two doctors arrive to arrest him claiming that he s a bigamist an attempted murderer and a thief But cynical writer Moon insists that the case be tried there and they explore Smith s past history revealing startling truths about what he does Is he the wickedest man in Britain or is he blameless as a buttercup Beautifully written mixing the ridiculous with the profound full of hilarious dialogue and lushly detailed writing Chesterton s main character Innocent Smith somehow manages to restore joy to all the dull and cynical lives around him In this delightfully strange mystery Chesterton demonstrates why life is worth living and that sometimes we need a little madness just to know we are alive

Chesterton, 2017-01-11 Manalive 1912 is a book by G K Chesterton detailing a popular theme both in his own philosophy and in Christianity of the holy fool such as in Dostoevsky's The Idiot and Cervantes' Don Quixote. This is a book in two parts. The first, The Enigma of Innocent Smith, concerns the arrival of a new tenant at Beacon House, a London boarding establishment. Like Mary Poppins, this man who is tentatively identified by lodger Arthur Inglewood as an ex-schoolmate named Innocent Smith is accompanied by a great wind and he breathes new life into the household with his games and antics. During his first day in residence, the eccentric Smith creates the High Court of Beacon, arranges to elope with Mary Gray, paid companion to heiress Rosamund Hunt, inspires Inglewood to declare his love for Diana Duke, the landlady's niece, and prompts a reconciliation between jaded journalist Michael Moon and Rosamund. However, when the household is at its happiest, two doctors appear with awful news: Smith is wanted on charges of burglary, desertion of a spouse, polygamy, and attempted murder. The fact that Smith almost immediately fires several shots from a revolver at Inglewood's friend Dr Herbert Warner seems to confirm the worst. Before Smith can be taken to a jail or an asylum, Michael Moon declares that the case falls under the purview of the High Court of Beacon and suggests that the household investigate the matter before involving the authorities or the press. The second part, The Explanations of Innocent Smith, follows the trial. The prosecution consists of Moses Gould, a merrily cynical Jew who lives at Beacon House and considers Smith at best a fool and at worst a scoundrel, and Dr Cyrus Pym, an American criminal specialist called in by Dr Warner. Michael Moon and Arthur Inglewood act for the defence. The evidence consists of correspondence from people who witnessed or participated in the exploits that led to the charges against Smith. In every case, the defendant is revealed to be as his first name states: innocent. He fires bullets near people to make them value life; the house he breaks into is his own; he travels around the world only to return with renewed appreciation for his house and family; and the women he absconded with are actually his wife, Mary, posing as a spinster under different aliases so they may repeatedly re-enact their courtship. Smith is needless to say acquitted on all charges.

Gilbert Keith Chesterton (29 May 1874 – 14 June 1936), better known as G. K. Chesterton, was an English writer, poet, philosopher, dramatist, journalist, orator, lay theologian, biographer, and literary and art critic. Chesterton is often referred to as the prince of paradox. Time magazine has observed of his writing style: "Whenever possible, Chesterton made his points with popular sayings, proverbs, allegories—first carefully turning them inside out." Chesterton is well known for his fictional priest-detective Father Brown and for his reasoned apologetics. Even some of those who disagree with him have recognised the wide appeal of such works as Orthodoxy and The Everlasting Man. Chesterton, as a political thinker, cast aspersions on both Progressivism and Conservatism, saying "The whole modern world has divided itself into Conservatives and Progressives. The business of Progressives is to go on making mistakes. The business of the Conservatives is to prevent the mistakes from being corrected." Chesterton routinely referred to himself as an orthodox Christian and came to identify this position more and more with Catholicism, eventually converting to Catholicism from High Church Anglicanism.

George Bernard Shaw, Chesterton's friendly enemy, according to Time, said of him: "He was a man of colossal genius. Biographers have identified him as a successor to such
