The image shows the exterior of a modern building at Vaal University of Technology. A large, horizontal sign made of rough-hewn stone is mounted on the building's facade, displaying the university's name in white, bold, sans-serif capital letters. The building behind the sign has large glass windows and a balcony with a metal railing. In the foreground, there is a lush garden with several large, dark green palm-like plants and various colorful flowers. A paved walkway is visible on the right side of the image.

A Learner's Guide To Academic Success Mafule Morelearn Moswane, 2016-11-21 A Learner's Guide to Academic Success is an inspirational and motivational guidebook for school learners in primary and secondary school. This book is highly recommended for high school learners from Grade 8 all the way to Grade 12. This book is also a useful tool for teachers and parents as they can read and share the message with their learners. Mafule is passionate about education and spends most of his time participating and running FBA projects such as career guidance, motivation sessions, and mentorship in high schools and tertiary institutions in South Africa. Mafule has visited many schools across South Africa to encourage the culture of reading and academic excellence to thousands of learners as a way to help young people access higher levels of education. The schools that have been adopted under FBA have been performing very well, and the learners have been able to access post-school opportunities. It is for those reasons that this book is written to reach out to many young people of South Africa who need an inspirational voice. This inspirational and motivational guidebook is a must-read for all learners in South Africa who will like to achieve academic success.

Redefining Education and Development Kaitano Dube, 2024-10-18 The book aligns with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), particularly Goal 4, which focuses on quality education. It explores the evolving role of education as a critical driver for achieving all 17 SDGs by providing a platform for discussing innovative educational models and theories that foster sustainable development. The book takes an interdisciplinary approach, merging educational theory, developmental practice, and human psychology to address complex global challenges hindering sustainable development. The book includes case studies and empirical research, such as exploring student entrepreneurship in the agricultural sector and the factors bridging the gap between entrepreneurial intention and venture creation. These examples provide readers with practical applications of theoretical concepts and demonstrate the real-world impact of educational innovations, which is at the core of education delivery for all and how education touches on other areas of the SDGs. The book offers valuable insights for policymakers, educators, and development practitioners by presenting research and theory-based analyses. It suggests ways to improve the academic environment to foster entrepreneurship and innovation, which are key to economic development and job creation, especially in regions with high youth unemployment rates. The content suggests educational reforms that are responsive to the changing societal and economic landscapes. The book's blend of theory and practice targets a broad audience, including academic scholars, students, development agencies, non-governmental organisations, and policymakers. It seeks to engage these diverse readers in a conversation about the future of education and its role in achieving sustainable development. In summary, the book seeks to provide a comprehensive exploration of the nexus between education, development, and human needs in the context of the SDGs, offering innovative perspectives and practical solutions to equip readers to contribute to sustainable global development.

Freshwater Challenges of South Africa and its Upper Vaal River Anja du Plessis, 2017-02-07 This book promotes better understanding and awareness of South Africa significant water problems by describing the country's and especially the Upper Vaal River's water resources. It is a go-to book for students, professionals, and regular citizens when information is required regarding the country's and more specifically the Upper Vaal River's freshwater resources. It highlights the major problems and risks which need to be addressed and give a realistic and true representation of the current water affairs. Training After Standard Ten in the Republic of South Africa, Excluding University Training Caroline Geggus, 1971 Technical Note, 1907 Deanship in the Global South Oliver J.J. Seale, 2021-02-08 The university today is a postmodern neo liberal competitive boundary less knowledge conglomerate a far cry from its historical traditional classical and collegial roots. There is a body of literature on deanship that points to its evolving nature in the contemporary academe characterised by complexity and change. Balancing academic demands simultaneously with the requirements for effective performance leadership and management lies at the heart of this very challenging bridging role nowadays. Deans are generally former academics emerging from a traditional collegial space and often catapulted into the relatively unknown domain of executive management with its related problems. Deans nowadays are required to be more than collegial intellectual leaders. They are also meant to be fiscal and human resource experts, fundraisers, politicians, and diplomats. Deanship in the Global South Bridging Troubled Waters is about the deans lived reality as they try to balance the demands of both the academe from which they emerge and the administration to whom they now need to account. Their lack of preparation and inadequate support points to the need for a more strategic integrated approach to leadership development within their critical bridging roles between the academe and administration. South Africa, 1993 My career, 1996 South African journal of dairy technology, 1972 The A to Z of Careers in South Africa, 2006 Chemical Reactor Design and Technology Hugo de Lasa, 2012-12-06 Today's frustrations and anxieties resulting from two energy crises in only one decade show us the problems and fragility of a world built on high energy consumption accustomed to the use of cheap non renewable energy and to the acceptance of existing imbalances between the resources and demands of countries. Despite all these stressing factors our world is still hesitating about the urgency of undertaking new and decisive research that could stabilize our future. Could this trend change in the near future? In our view two different scenarios are possible. A renewed energy tension could take place with an unpredictable timing mostly related to political and economic factors. This could bring again scientists and technologists to a new state of shock and awaken our talents. A second interesting and beneficial scenario could result from the positive influence of a new generation of researchers that with or without immediate crisis acting both in industry and academia will face the challenge of developing technologies and processes to pave the way to a less vulnerable society. Because Chemical Reactor Design and Technology activities are at the heart of these required new technologies the timeliness of the NATO Advanced Study Institute at the University of Western Ontario London was very appropriate.
