12th Edition

Mark Hirschey

The background of the cover is a stylized illustration of a baseball field. The infield is depicted in light tan, while the outfield is a vibrant green. Overlaid on this field are several economic curves: a steep, upward-sloping red line representing a marginal cost curve; a flatter, upward-sloping yellow line representing an average total cost curve; and a downward-sloping black line with circular data points representing a demand or marginal revenue curve. The curves intersect to form a profit-maximizing equilibrium point within the infield area.
