Matric Maths Papers February March 2014:

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02

South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy. The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages. Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools. The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully. The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience. Teacher Education in Professional Learning Communities Xuefeng Huang, 2018-06-20

This book explores the unique experiences of a sister school network in Canada and China contextualized through the lens of the Reciprocal Learning Project which supports the relationship between a school network and teacher education exchange program of two countries. Huang uses theoretical viewpoints from teacher learning and comparative education research to analyse and interpret what has happened in the emerging cross cultural school network. The book juxtaposes teacher learning and comparative education research from Shanghai and Ontario as teachers in the two places interact and provides detailed descriptions of teacher collaboration to show how these collaborations were initiated, developed and sustained as well as the impact brought about from these collaborations. The book offers a unique opportunity to examine how Canadian and Chinese teachers receive and react to opportunities of cross cultural collaboration and learning. Special Duty Richard J. Samuels, 2019-10-15

The prewar history of the Japanese intelligence community demonstrates how having power over much but insight into little can have devastating consequences. Its postwar history, one of limited Japanese power despite growing insight, has also been problematic for national security. In Special Duty Richard J. Samuels dissects the fascinating history of the intelligence community in Japan. Looking at the impact of shifts in the strategic environment, technological change and past failures, he probes the reasons why Japan has endured such a roller coaster ride when it comes to intelligence gathering and analysis and concludes that the ups and downs of the past century combined with growing uncertainties in the regional security environment have convinced Japanese leaders of the critical importance of striking balance between power and insight. Using examples of excessive hubris and debilitating bureaucratic competition before the Asia Pacific War, the unavoidable dependence on US assets and popular sensitivity to security issues after World War II and the tardy adoption of image processing and cyber technologies, Samuels' bold book highlights the century long history of Japan's struggles to develop a fully functioning and effective intelligence capability and makes clear that Japanese leaders have begun to reinvent their nation's intelligence community. Over-Tested and Under-Prepared

Bob Sornson, 2022-11-23 Pressured by standardized testing and rigid pacing guidelines many schools are forced to cover too much content too quickly without being able to meet the needs of individual students In this powerful book from acclaimed author and presenter Bob Sornson you ll learn how shifting from curriculum based instruction to competency based personalized learning can help students become more successful confident and engaged learners Each chapter is easy to digest and provides compelling research strategies and anecdotes to inspire conversation and action This second edition provides updated statistics and examples of schools successfully using competency based learning models to help you bring about meaningful change Teachers administrators and community leaders will all find practical resources and a clear rationale for transforming our current educational system into a new dynamic model of teaching and learning The Military's Business Mikkel Vedby Rasmussen, 2015-03-05 If the military were a business would you buy shares Over recent years Western armed forces particularly the US have been costing more yet achieving less At the same time austerity measures are reducing defence budgets This book uses defence data to examine the workings of modern Western militaries and explore what kind of strategies can overcome this gap between input and output Instead of focusing on military strategy Mikkel Vedby Rasmussen seeks to draw on the ideas of business strategy to assess alternative business cases reforming military HR to combat instability in the Global South or utilising new technologies to overcome the prohibitive costs of current systems Analysing the philosophical strategic and budgetary underpinnings of these alternatives he concludes that a more radical break from current military organisational practices is needed which would allow them to fit within a nation s overall national security system without ever increasing budgets The Politics of Education in Developing Countries

Sam Hickey, Naomi Hossain, 2019-02-21 Why have many developing countries that have succeeded in expanding access to education made such limited progress on improving learning outcomes There is a growing recognition that the learning crisis constitutes a significant dimension of global inequality and also that educational outcomes in developing countries are shaped by political as well as socio economic and other factors The Politics of Education in Developing Countries focuses on how politics shapes the capacity and commitment of elites to tackle the learning crisis in six developing countries Bangladesh Cambodia Ghana Rwanda South Africa and Uganda The problem of education quality is serious across the Global South The Politics of Education in Developing Countries From Schooling to Learning deploys a new conceptual framework the domains of power approach to show how the type of political settlement shapes the level of elite commitment and state capacity to improving learning outcomes The domain of education is prone to being highly politicized as it offers an important source of both rents and legitimacy to political elites and can be central to paradigmatic elite ideas around nation building and modernity Of particular importance is the relative strength of coalitions pushing for access as against those focused on issues of higher quality education This book concludes with a discussion of entry points and strategies for thinking and working politically in relation to education quality reforms and critical commentaries Poverty in America Christina G.

Common Sense Mathematics Ethan D. Bolker,Maura B. Mast,2016-05-04 Common Sense Mathematics is a text for a one semester college level course in quantitative literacy The text emphasizes common sense and common knowledge in approaching real problems through popular news items and finding useful mathematical tools and frames with which to address those questions We asked ourselves what we hoped our students would remember about this course in ten year s time From that ten year perspective thoughts about syllabus what topics should we cover seemed much too narrow What matters more is our wish to change the way our students minds work the way they approach a problem or more generally the way they approach the world Most people skip the numbers in newspapers magazines on the web and more importantly even in financial information We hope that in ten years our students will follow the news confident in their ability to make sense of the numbers they find there and in their daily lives Most quantitative reasoning texts are arranged by mathematical topics to be mastered Since the mathematics is only a part of what we hope students learn we ve chosen another strategy We look at real life stories that can be best understood with careful reading and a little mathematics

The Politics and Governance of Basic Education

Brian Levy,Robert Cameron,Ursula Hoadley,Vinothan Naidoo,2018-09-05 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4 0 International licence It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations All over the world economic inclusion has risen to the top of the development discourse A well performing education system is central to achieving inclusive development but the challenge of improving educational outcomes has proven to be unexpectedly difficult Access to education has increased but quality remains low with weaknesses in governance comprising an important part of the explanation The Politics and Governance of Basic Education explores the balance between hierarchical and horizontal institutional arrangements for the public provision of basic education Using the vivid example of South Africa a country that had ambitious goals at the outset of its transition from apartheid to democracy it explores how the interaction of politics and institutions affects educational outcomes By examining lessons learned from how South Africa failed to achieve many of its goals it constructs an innovative alternative strategy for making process combining practical steps to achieve incremental gains to re orient the system towards learning
