Improving National Education Systems After COVID-19 Nuno Crato,Harry Anthony Patrinos,2024-10-14 This open access book compares and analyses the results in twelve countries of the two latest international student assessments Progress in

International Reading Literacy Study 2021 PIRLS and the Programme for International Student Assessment 2022 PISA and tries to disentangle the effects of the pandemic from the long term trends in education It is one of the first or maybe the first published volumes to provide a global assessment of the devastating impact of the COVID 19 pandemic on student learning as measured by independent international comparative surveys The 12 countries discussed in this volume represent a wide variety of educational systems including Chile Ecuador England Estonia Italy the Netherlands Poland Portugal South Africa Spain and the United States It compiles diverse scenarios including countries that are high performers countries that perform at the OECD mean and countries that are struggling to attain the OECD average Each country has its history that reflects efforts to cope with pandemic school closures and to improve educational achievement A major topic discussed in this edited volume is related to understanding the diverse circumstances for the variations in results within different countries Why did learning loss in specific locations How much learning was lost Why is a country continuously declining Why is another country constantly improving Why is there higher or less levels of inequality How is a country regularly improving with an outdated curriculum Which policies have worked and which ones have not What can we do now This book is a valuable contribution to answer these concerns based on a diverse sample of countries and research questions

Contexts of Learning Mathematics and Science Sarah J. Howie, Tjeerd Plomp, 2006-04-18 This book is the result of research from over fifteen countries asking which background and environmental factors influence achievement in mathematics and science This research is based on data from the Third International Mathematics and Science Study TIMSS which was conducted under the auspices of the International Association for the Evaluation of Educational Achievement IEA in 1995 and 1998 In many countries researchers have started secondary analysis of the data in search for relationships between contextual factors and achievement In these analyses two different approaches can be distinguished which can be characterised by the metaphors of fishing and hunting In the fishing approach researchers begin with an open mind considering all possible context variables as potentially influential Applying analysis techniques such as regression analysis Lisrel PLS HLM and MLN they then identify important factors within their countries or across a number of countries In the hunting approach researchers hypothesise certain context variables and trace the effect of these variables on mathematics and or science achievement
