Film Actresses Vol.19 Clara Bow Jacob Adrian,2014-11-02 Film Actress CLARA BOW life and art This book is part of a major European journalistic and media project This series of documentary books are the starting point in order to preserve with effort the history The concept will be revised and developed in years American Cinema of the 1920s Lucy Fischer,2009-04-15 During the 1920s sound revolutionized the motion picture industry and cinema continued as one of the most significant and popular forms of mass entertainment in the world Film studios were transformed into major corporations hiring a host of craftsmen and technicians including cinematographers editors screenwriters and set designers The birth of the star system supported the meteoric rise and celebrity status of actors including Charlie Chaplin Mary Pickford Joan Crawford Greta Garbo and Rudolph Valentino while black performers relegated to race films appeared infrequently in mainstream movies The classic Hollywood film style was perfected and significant film genres were established the melodrama western historical epic and romantic comedy along with slapstick science fiction and fantasy In ten original essays American Cinema of the 1920s examines the film industry's continued growth and prosperity while focusing on important themes of the era African American Actresses Charlene B. Regester,2010-06-14 Nine actresses from Madame Sul Te Wan in Birth of a Nation 1915 to Ethel Waters in Member of the Wedding 1952 are profiled in African American Actresses Charlene Regester poses questions about prevailing racial politics on screen and off screen identities and black stardom and white stardom She reveals how these women fought for their roles as well as what they compromised or didn't compromise Regester repositions these actresses to highlight their contributions to cinema in the first half of the 20th century taking an informed theoretical historical and critical approach The Lively Arts of the London Stage, 1675-1725 Kathryn Lowerre,2016-12-05 Unlike collections of essays which focus on a single century or whose authors are drawn from a single discipline this collection reflects the myriad performance options available to London audiences offering readers a composite portrait of the music drama and dance productions that characterized this rich period Just as the performing arts were deeply interrelated the essays presented here by scholars from a range of fields engage in dialogue with others in the volume The opening section examines a famous series of 1701 performances based on the competition between composers to set William Congreve's masque The Judgment of Paris to music The essays in the central section the mainpiece showcase performers and productions on the London stage from a variety of perspectives including English tastes in art and music the use of dance the depiction of madness and masculinity in both spoken and musical performances and genres and modes in the context of contemporary criticism and theatrical practice A brief afterpiece looks at comic pieces in relation to satire parody and homage By bringing together work by scholars of music dance and drama this cross disciplinary collection illuminates the interconnecting strands that shaped a vibrant theatrical world Silent Film Necrology Eugene Michael Vazzana,2001 This greatly expanded over 18 500 entries versus 9 000 in the earlier edition and updated edition includes everyone from John Aasen an 8 foot 9 inch circus star who appeared in silent film comedies to Vladimir Kosma Zworykin who invented the iconoscope and kinescope that together constituted the first all electronic television system This is the most complete necrology available on people from the silent era The entries are arranged alphabetically by professional name and include birth and death dates the place of birth and death real name when it differs from the professional name married name for women birth certificate date when available age at death and bibliographic data of any autobiography or biography When available the cause of death is also provided Following these data there is a reference to any obituary printed in The New York Times Variety or occasionally another publication including the obituary s headline Colleen Moore Jeff

Codori,2012-03-13 Colleen Moore 1899 1988 was one of the most popular and beloved stars of the American silent screen Remembered primarily as a comedienne in such films as Ella Cinders 1926 and Orchids and Ermine 1927 Moore s career was also filled with dramatic roles that often reflected societal trends A trailblazing performer her legacy was somewhat overshadowed by the female stars that followed her notably Louise Brooks and Clara Bow An in depth examination of Moore s early life and film career the book reveals the ways in which her family and the times in which she lived influenced the roles she chose Included are forewords written by film historian Joseph Yranski a friend of the actress and by Moore s stepdaughter Judith Hargrave Coleman Actresses and Mental Illness Fiona Gregory,2018-09-20 Actresses and Mental Illness investigates the relationship between the work of the actress and her personal experience of mental illness from the late nineteenth through to the end of twentieth century Over the past two decades scholars have made great advances in our understanding of the history of the actress unearthing the material conditions of her working life the force of her creative agency and the politics of her reception and representation By focusing specifically on actresses encounters with mental illness Fiona Gregory builds on this earlier work and significantly supplements it Through detailed case studies of both well known and neglected figures in theatre and film history including Mrs Patrick Campbell Vivien Leigh Frances Farmer and Diana Barrymore it shows how mental illness actual or supposed has impacted on actresses performances careers and celebrity The book covers a range of topics including representing emotion on stage the failed actress actresses and addiction and actresses and psychiatric treatment Actresses and Mental Illness expands the field of actress studies by showing how consideration of the personal experience of the actress influences our understanding of her work and its reception The book underscores how the actress can be perceived as a representative public woman acting as a lens through which we can examine broader attitudes to women and mental illness The Image of Librarians in Cinema, 1917-1999

Ray Tevis,Brenda Tevis,2015-03-26 From its earliest days to the present the onscreen image of the librarian has remained largely the same A silent 1921 film set the precedent for two female librarian characters a dowdy spinster wears glasses and a bun hairstyle and an attractive young woman is overworked and underpaid Silent films however employed a variety of characteristics for librarians showed them at work on many different tasks and featured them in a range of dramatic romantic and comedic situations The sound era during which librarians appeared in more than 200 films frequently exaggerated these characteristics and situations strongly influencing the general image of librarians This chronologically arranged work analyzes the stereotypical image of librarians male and female in primarily American and British motion pictures from the silent era to the 21st century The work briefly describes each film offering some critical commentary and then examines its librarian considering every aspect of the total character from socio economic conditions and motivations for leaving or not leaving the library to personal attributes such as clothing hair and age and entanglements with the opposite sex to commonly used props plot situations and lines Shush The work comments on whether librarians and library work are depicted accurately and analyzes the development of the public's image of a librarian The accompanying filmography lists librarian characters and notes stereotypes such as buns and eyeglasses With bibliography and index

Adaptations and Cinematic Representations of Blackness illuminates cultural and material trends that shaped Black film adaptations during the twentieth century Contributors to this collection reveal how Black literary and filmic texts are sites of negotiation between dominant and resistant perspectives Their work ultimately explores the effects racial perspectives have on film adaptations and how race inflected cultural norms have influenced studio and independent film depictions Several chapters analyze how self censorship and industry censorship affect Black writing and the adaptations of Black stories in early to mid twentieth century America Using archival material contributors demonstrate the ways commercial obstacles have led Black writers and white dominated studios to mask Black experiences Other chapters document instances in which Black writers and directors navigate cultural norms and material realities to realize their visions in literary works independent films and studio productions Through uncovering patterns in Black film adaptations Intersecting Aesthetics
